Strawberry Tower Plan Is Approved

County Planners Pass Drawings For Apartments

Unanimous vote of five members of the Marin County Planning Commission today approved plans of architect Lloyd Flood for the 20 million dollar "luxury tower apartments" on Harbor Point of Strawberry Peninsula.

Chairman William Upton summarized the apparently contradictory attitude of the commission in granting today's prompt approval in a brief hearing, after earlier declining to rezone 27 acres of Samuel R. Neider property on which Flood and his partner, Ralph Walters, seek to build.

"Since the land has now been zoned for this use, the issue doesn't involve these plans, which are excellent," said Upton.

The planning staff, which had opposed the original rezoning, reported of the plans that "drawings are unusually complete and comprehensive." Flood and Walters presented a model showing the proposed marine layout of towers, guest cottages and boating provision.

Sole opposition today was a legal question raised in a letter from William Kelly of 252 Perry Street, Mill Valley, who contended that technical provisions of the applicable ordinance were not being met.

The letter came as a surprise to both the staff and attorney Bryan McCarthy for Walters-Flood, but McCarthy insisted he had "studied this thing for months" and was convinced no valid points had been overlooked.

Upton said that before the supervisors on Aug. 15 set a hearing date informal opinion could be obtained from the county counsel.

Girl, 16, Dies As Hunter Fires At 'Deer'

Marin Father Thought She Would Be Safe In Trees

Sixteen-year-old Theresa Issel had begged her father for so long to accompany him on a deer hunt that he decided to take her with him to Lake Pillsbury on opening day.

Early Saturday, George Issel of 218 Union Street, San Rafael, selected a spot for his daughter where he was sure she would be safe from stray bullets.

At 9 a.m. Theresa died almost instantly when a bullet from a hunter's gun struck her in the heart.

Witnessing the accident was Linda Leber, 17, Issel's stepdaughter and a San Rafael High School student. Linda reported no deer had been seen. She said she heard someone shout "don't shoot!" a moment before the fatal shot was fired.

Mendocino County Sheriff Reno Bartolomie said a manslaughter warrant was being prepared against Olen M. Holcomb, 35, of Milpitas, charged with firing the fatal shot.

Witnesses said Theresa was protected by trees except for a narrow opening through which the bullet passed.

Holcomb told deputies he was not sure what he was shooting at but "thought he saw a deer."

Issel is a business agent for the Marine Cooks and Stewards Union in San Francisco.

Theresa, Issel's daughter by a former marriage, lived in Richmond before moving to Danville four years ago. Funeral services will be held there on Wednesday.

Temperature Soars To 100 Again

Marin temperatures, which reached a high of 100 degrees at Woodacre yesterday, were cooled somewhat by an overcast this morning, but the forecast was for another scorcher this afternoon.

Yesterday's high readings included 99 in San Anselmo, 98 in Novato, 97 in San Rafael, 90 in Tamalpais Valley and 87 in Belvedere.

At noon today, the mercury stood at 89 in Novato, 80 in San Rafael and Tamalpais Valley, 79 in Sausalito and 77 in Belvedere.

The forecast was for "above normal" temperatures throughout tonight and tomorrow in the Bay Area.

The hot weather brought renewed pleas from Marin Municipal and North Marin Water Districts for caution in extra use of water. The North Marin district is preparing an emergency water rationing ordinance. No such action has been taken by Marin Municipal district, but the abnormal draw on water during repeated hot spells has sharply reduced storage in the district's reservoirs.

No precipitation is in sight for at least five days, the U.S. Weather Bureau said, with the exception of possible thundershowers in the Sierra Nevada.

Astronaut Slept, Ate During Trip

MOSCOW (UPI)—Cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov returned to earth in good health and high spirits today after orbiting the globe 17 times—a feat Soviet science immediately heralded as the "prototype" of interplanetary travel.

The 25-year-old "eagle," promoted by the Russian Air Force from captain to major while he was whirling at 17,750 miles an hour in his spaceship, landed after 25 hours and 18 minutes of flight equal to going to the moon and back. (See other stories, page 10).

Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev hailed Titov as the "dearest son" of the Soviet Union and told him he had passed from probationary to full member of the communist party "because every moment of your stay in space can be counted as years."

Soviet scientific sources predicted there would be another multi-orbital flight before October with perhaps three men aboard, including a scientist. Next stop, the moon.

Said Scientist Nikokay Barbashov:

REAL FLIGHT

"This is no longer a mere leap into the cosmos but a real cosmic flight, the prototype of the future interplanetary journey."

Moscow said the flight took Titov 434,960 miles. It indicated he still was in his capsule when it landed but gave no details on how the descent was accomplished.

Doctors said Titov's survival of 24 hours of weightlessness during which he ate three meals, slept eight hours, guided his craft manually and even did setting-up exercises demonstrated the human body is capable of sustained interplanetary flight.

The 10,430-pound capsule (compared to 4,500 for America's astronaut spacecraft) was rocketed into orbit around 2 a.m. (EDT Sunday) and landed, apparently intact, at 2:18 a.m. (EDT) today in the Saratov region of the Russian republic, about 400 miles southeast of Moscow.

LAUNCHING SITE

Vostok II was believed launched from the desert wastes east of the Aral Sea, the same site from which Maj. Yuri Gagarin made the world's first manned space flight April 12.

Aware of doubts that Gagarin actually orbited the globe, Moscow Radio this time carefully broadcast the time Titov's capsule would pass over cities around the world so that it could be seen from the ground.

Moscow radio said he flew over every continent at heights ranging from 110.3 to 159.3 miles, broadcasting goodwill messages by radio. When he came within range of Soviet receivers, scientists were able to get a look at him in the capsule over live television.

The capsule also carried unidentified "biological organisms"—perhaps mice, flies and plants. Titov was able to look out at the earth below through three portholes.

Khrushchev asked Titov if his wife, Tamara, 24, approved of his making the flight. The astronaut said that at first she didn't but later she did. Khru-

Marinites 'Hear' Russ Space Ship

Russia's latest cosmonaut was heard in Marin last night, but people who thought they saw his space ship were really seeing the United States' Echo I weather satellite.

Cosmonaut Gherman S. Titov's voice transmissions and beacon signal were heard at the American Telephone and Telegraph Co's station in Inverness at 11 p.m., it was learned.

Titov would speak—in Russian—for five or 10 seconds, then remain silent for about five minutes. The beacon signal—an intermittent "bleep"—could be heard meantime.

NO SUCCESS

I. K. Given, Radio Corp. of America traffic manager, said the RCA marine station on the Point Reyes peninsula tried without success to pick up the space ship's signal.

Radio Moscow yesterday broadcast four frequencies on which it said Titov's signal would be broadcast. It was received on 20 megacycles at Inverness, reported Phillips.

Two parties—one in San Rafael and one in San Anselmo—reported to the Independent-Journal today they saw the Russian space ship passing over at 10:05 p.m. But it was the Echo 1 which was visible at that time. It will appear over Marin again tonight at 9:30 p.m.

'MOVING STAR'

Ed McDonnell reported he and seven others saw what they thought was the new Russian space ship at 10:05 from the front porch of the McDonnell home at 171 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frazier and Mr. and Mrs. John Looney and daughter Jeanne, all of San Anselmo, watched the same "bright, moving star" at the same time from the Frazier home at 111 Camino De Herrera, San Anselmo.

WHAT MAJ. TITOV, KHRUSHCHEV SAID

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Tass News Agency today gave this transcript of the telephone conversation between Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Major Gherman Titov after the astronaut's space flight:

Khrushchev: I am listening to you, Comrade Gherman Stepanovich, and cordial congratulations.

Titov: "Comrade first secretary of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union Central Committee, I report that the task set by the party and the government has been fulfilled. All the systems and equipment of the ship worked excellently. The landing was made in the predetermined area. My comrades gave me a good reception and I feel very well.

Khrushchev: Excellent. Your voice sounds as though you had just arrived from a wedding feast.

Titov: Well said, Nikita Sergeivitch. There was a feast—but not a wedding one. (Both laugh).

Khrushchev: A feast, that is true, but not a wedding feast. For the newly married a wedding feast is the happiest time. But what you have done, this is a happy time for the whole of mankind. You have carried out an unprecedented cosmic voyage. How many circuits of the earth did you do?

Titov: Seventeen and a half, Nikita Sergeivitch.

Khrushchev: In how many hours?

Titov: In 25 hours and some minutes.

Khrushchev: Twenty-five hours and some minutes. This is a heroic deed. You have fulfilled mankind's dream. You are no longer a candidate member of the party. Reckon that your probationary period has already ended.

Titov: Many thanks, Nikita Sergeivitch. I shall try to justify the confidences of the party and promise to continue to fulfill the lofty duties of a party member.

Khrushchev: Very well. I congratulate you and your parents, your father and mother, for having brought you up as such a brave Soviet man. Now I want to ask you how you felt during the flight.

Titov: I felt extremely well, Nikita Sergeivitch. After the landing I drank a little water, and I feel splendid.

Khrushchev: Did you manage to sleep at least a little during the flight?

Titov: I should have awak-

Anthony Dies, Pioneer In Autos, Radio

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Earle C. Anthony, pioneer radioman and auto dealer, died at St. Luke's hospital last night. He was 80.

Anthony was hospitalized here last week. He had been ill more than a year.

One of the west's leading auto dealers, Anthony also was credited with many innovations — including the first known gasoline stations.

The stations he founded were later sold and became the system of Standard Oil gasoline stations.

Tells West Avoid 'War Psychosis'

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev accused the United States tonight of plotting to start a war and accused President John F. Kennedy of using "threats" in his recent report to the American people on the Berlin crisis.

He warned in an hour and a half nationwide radio and television address that if a war starts, the Soviet Union can launch a massive strike with atomic and hydrogen warheads against the United States, its overseas bases and its allies.

Khrushchev said, in an obvious answer to President Kennedy's moves to beef up American military might, that it may be necessary for the Soviet Union to strengthen its own position and recall reserves.

He said that Kennedy spoke in the language of an ultimatum. As a result of the President's "threats," Khrushchev said, there is a spread of war hysteria in the United States.

"It is criminal irresponsibility on the part of the American leaders who think that once the war starts it can be limited," he said.

"Neither country which has nuclear weapons will accept defeat until those weapons are tried out."

DON'T KNOW WAR

He said that Americans, who have not experienced war in their own country in a long time, will realize what war means.

"We do not want this," he said.

But if war starts, Khrushchev said, the Soviet Union will "strike a crushing blow" not only at the United States, but at its allies and its far-flung overseas bases throughout the world.

Khurshchev, however, also appealed again to the governments of the United States, Britain and France to avoid a war psychosis" and settle world issues at the conference table.

CONFERENCE TABLE

Exhilarated by another spectacular Soviet achievement with Maj. Gherman Titov's space flight, Khrushchev, said "Let us sit down honestly at a round conference table. Let us not fan up war phychosis, let us clear the atmosphere, let us rely on reason and not on the force of thermonuclear weapons."

Khrushchev also addressed himself to the peoples and governments of the neutral nations.

"You cannot stay aloof," he told them. "Only joint efforts by all peoples can lead to the aggressor being put in a straight jacket and the threat of World War III being averted from mankind.

"Only the efforts of all peoples and governments can lead to the triumph of the great principles of coexistence and to agreement on general and complete disarmament under strict international control."

Khrushchev began his address saying that first he wished again to congratulate the Soviet people on the successful completion of Titov's space flight, and then he entered a

U.S. Space Speedup Demanded

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional demands for a speedup in the U. S. space program increased today and there were indications the target date for putting the first American into orbit might be moved up.

The successful orbiting of the second Soviet Cosmonaut brought new pressure from the Senate and House for space agency officials to send a U. S. Astronaut around the earth this year.

COULD 'BUY TIME'

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Chairman Overton Brooks, (D-S. C.,) of the House Space Committee were among legislators urging spurred U. S. space efforts.

Lt. Col. John Powers, spokesman for the U. S. man-in-space program, said it would be possible for this country to "buy time" in its space effort by devoting money and talent to achieving orbital flight. This would mean abandoning any plans for more suborbital flights.

ORBIT DATE

Present U. S. plans call for putting one of the seven U. S. Astronauts into orbit late this year or early next, with most experts betting on 1961. Brooks wants this country to orbit a man by November. (See also story, page 10).

Russell said he hoped that the Russian flight would spur U. S. efforts. He said, "we have given them all the money they've asked for. I hope they use it."

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, (D-Wash.,) a member of the Senate Space Committee, said the Soviet feat was "another good achievement" of Russian scientists. He noted that U. S. space experts also have "already done a lot" to step up the U. S. man-in-space program.

NOTICE OF TIME AND PLACE FOR FIXING FINAL BUDGET OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN FOR THE 1961-62 FISCAL YEAR

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin that the Preliminary Budget pamphlets of the County of Marin for the 1961-1962 fiscal year will be available to taxpayers requesting them at the office of the County Clerk.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that on Thursday, the 10th day of August, 1961, at 9:00 o'clock A.M. of said day in the Supervisors' Chambers in the Court House Annex, San Rafael, California, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin will meet for the purpose of fixing the Final Budget of the County of Marin for the 1961-1962 fiscal year, and any taxpayer may appear at said time and place and be heard regarding the increase, decrease or omission of any item of the budget or for the inclusion of additional items.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN. DATE: July 18, 1961

GEO. S. JONES, COUNTY CLERK AND EX-OFFICIO CLERK OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Barbed Wire

BONN (AP) — East German workers are busy repairing rusty and damaged barbed wire marking the 69-mile East zone border around West Berlin, a refugee organization's publication said yesterday.

Deutsche Ostkune German Eastern Studies said the 150-foot wide "death strip," also is being cleaned of grass and bushes. An identical strip on the East zone border with West Germany is plowed almost daily, making it easier for border policemen to spot escapers.

Makes Debut

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Don Jaime de Mora y Aragon, brother of Queen Fabiola of Belgium, made his Italian debut over the weekend as pianist and pop singer in a summer resort nightclub.

The Spanish nobleman, turned actor-entertainer, disappointed the big turnout in one minor detail. He did not wear the black gloves he usually puts on when he plays the piano.

24 Die In Air Crash

VIENNA (UPI)—A Hungarian airliner crashed in a Budapest suburb yesterday, killing all 24 persons on board, Budapest Radio announced today.

Western observers here speculated that the official announcement of the crash, which took place while Soviet Spaceman Gherman Titov was aloft, was deliberately delayed until after his successful landing was disclosed.

The victims included 20 passengers and a crew of four. While the announcement did not say so, the victims were believed to have been aboard a DC3 type aircraft used by the Hungarian Malev airlines, which conducts Sunday sightseeing tours over Budapest.

Ship Accident

SEOUL (AP)—A spokesman for the Korean agent of the Pacific Far East Line said today the California Bear of the line ran aground in Pusan Harbor last night.

First reports indicated the ship's crew were unhurt and no serious damage occurred to the ship.

The 13,000-ton freighter was leaving the Pusan port for Inchon, west of Seoul, with some 7,000 tons of cargo aboard when she hit a rock, the spokesman said.

Ivory Coast Visit

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (UPI)—U.S. Attorney-General Robert F. Kennedy helps this tiny west African nation celebrate its first independence anniversary today with a social schedule that includes nearly everything from a military review to a folk-dance festival.

Kennedy and assistant secretary of state for African affairs G. Mennen Williams arranged to attend a 90-minute military ceremony to start off the day.

Currency Change

HAVANA (UPI)—A travel ban that went into effect over the weekend as a preliminary to a currency changeover by the Cuban government was scheduled to be lifted tonight.

The government halted all ship and plane travel in and out of Cuba over the weekend to prevent refugees from taking money out of the country.

All plane flights were canceled and the port of Havana was closed, with three ships waiting outside the harbor entrance.

Pope's Accident

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — An Italian policeman's motorcycle accidentally crashed into the limousine of Pope John XXIII early today as the Pontiff was being driven to the Vatican.

Neither the Pope nor the policeman was injured.

The motorcycle and the big black convertible, which has a special throne for the Pope in the back, were slightly damaged.

Algeria Violence

ALGIERS (UPI)—At least six persons were killed and 25 were wounded in outbursts of violence in Algeria over the weekend.

Four Europeans and a Moslem were killed and another Moslem was seriously wounded when a rebel unit ambushed three civilian autos in a gorge 18 miles from the western Algerian port city of Bougie.

Cardinal's Rites

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Funeral services will be held Thursday for Joseph Ernest Cardinal Van Roey, 87, the third prince of the Roman Catholic Church to die within a week.

The Belgian prelate died yesterday after a lingering illness.

Cardinal Van Roey was known as "the rhinoceros of Malines" — the name of his archepiscopal palace—because of his strong personality and forthright stand he took on political questions.

Before World War II he openly opposed Belgian fascist leader Leon Degrelle. During the German occupation he criticized Nazi occupation policies and objected to allied bombings of Belgium. In postwar years he fought socialist movements and frequently came under fire from the left wing press.

Big 4 Willing To Negotiate Over Berlin

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Four foreign ministers made clear today they are willing to negotiate a settlement of the Berlin problem but left the next move to the Soviet Union.

After a two-day review of the crisis resulting from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's new drive to end the allied occupation of West Berlin, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the foreign ministers of Britain, France and West Germany said they would talk with the Soviets "only on a reasonable basis" but that the Soviets have done nothing so far to provide for such an approach.

The talks must be conducted on a "plane of mutual respect," a French spokesman said. A British spokesman said Moscow's last notes to the four allies, threatening a separate peace with the East Germans and demanding a new status for West Berlin, amounted to "abuse which does not provide reasonable basis for negotiation."

The Western powers decided to await further developments before taking any initiative toward an East-West conference. One of these developments will be Khrushchev's speech tonight.

Khrushchev, reportedly angered by President John F. Kennedy's speech on the Soviet challenge to Berlin, is expected to reply when he goes on a nationwide radio and TV network. The Soviet leader reportedly told visiting Italian Premier Amintore Fanfani he considered Kennedy's speech excessively belligerent.

Leaders of the Communist Warsaw Pact nations disclosed Saturday night they had decided in a secret three-day meeting to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany by the end of this year. The eight-nation group asserted that delaying a German treaty indefinitely would "contribute to an intensification of the threat of a new war in Europe and not only in Europe."

Khrushchev stated in notes to the Western powers last week that he is ready to negotiate a settlement on the future of Germany and Berlin. But he apparently left it to the West to take the initiative.

CRISIS, TANKS, DOLLARS

Camera-Carrying Americans Thinning Out Around Europe

By MILTON MARMOR

LONDON (AP) — The familiar figure of the camera-carrying American tourist isn't seen as often this summer as in former years at most of Europe's resort spots.

Early reports from hotels and tourist agencies show a definite dropping off of visitors from across the Atlantic. The falloff ranges around 10 per cent.

Among reasons advanced are:

1. President John F. Kennedy's appeal to Americans to save dollars for America by spending their vacations at home.

2. The Berlin crisis. The average American tourist is highly sensitive to international trouble.

3. Tanks in Paris streets during the recent Algerian troubles.

The official figures for May — the most recent ones available in Britain — show a 10 per cent decrease from last year, although the number of visitors from other countries went up 10 per cent. One Scottish tourist agency man estimated the American fall-off at as much as 40 per cent.

Paris, a mecca for American tourists for many decades, estimates a drop of at least 10 per cent. The figure is given by W. L. Windler, American Express travel manager. He expressed doubt that uneasiness about Berlin and Algeria had discouragd many of the missing tourists. He noted that most travel plans were made in February and March, before Berlin became a hotspot.

He said such special attractions as the Olympic Games in Rome, Italy, where American tourism has been climbing steadily every year, showed somewhat inconclusive figures. As in most lands, the first four months showed an increase of 15 to 20 per cent in tourists over last year. American tourism went up 5 per cent. But in June the over-all tourist influx increased only 10 per cent.

American Express officials in Geneva said there were from 15 to 20 per cent fewer American tourists in the mountainous wonderland this summer. The drop started in June, with the development of the Berlin crisis.

Officials suggested President Kennedy's call for dollar savings clearly was a factor. Hotel keepers in the main Swiss summer tourists spots reported a wave of cancellations from America. One estimate was as high as 30 per cent.

West German officials said they had no means of judging whether U. S. tourism has dropped off.

East Berlin Reports Job Seekers Rise

BERLIN (AP) — East German Communists claimed today large numbers of commuters are giving up their jobs in West Berlin and looking for work under Red rule.

The Communists have been putting commuters under heavy pressure. People who live in Communist areas and work in West Berlin now have to pay rent and many other bills in Western currency, instead of Communist coined money worth only one-fifth as much.

CALLS PILING UP

Junge Welt, the Communist youth daily, said that since early Saturday calls have been piling up at East Berlin factories from commuters who want new jobs. It reported that East Berlin's biggest department store, run by the state, is taking on salesgirls who used to work in West Berlin.

Poor service in shops, due largely to lack of sales help, is a cause of complaint in all Communist countries — especially East Germany.

Refugees are still coming in large numbers from Communist East Germany, though the flow ebbed in comparison with last weekend. Between 8 a.m. Saturday and today at the same time, there were 2,740 who registered in West Berlin.

The figure was 3,158 for the same period last week. Additional hundreds are flown out to West Germany every day without registration.

MOST COMMUTERS

Camp authorities said many of the refugees are commuters and their families.

West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev last night not to let East German Ulbricht push him into taking drastic action on Berlin.

"Form your own opinions of the Berlin situation," Brandt said in a broadcast remark aimed at Khrushchev, "so you will recognize into what kind of a predicament Ulbrecht can bring you if you don't."

Policy On Hemisphere Is Being Laid Down

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — The United States offers Latin America today a challenging program designed to fortify the hemisphere against assault from world communism.

Secretary of the Treasury C. Douglas Dillon will present the broad outlines of President John F. Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program in a speech billed as an historic statement of U. S. hemisphere policy.

Dillon will tell delegates to the Inter-American Economic and Social Conference how the United States proposes to help Latin America tackle its age-old problems of poverty and illiteracy and approach the goal of economic stability.

Viewing this program as a common concern of the Western alliance against Communism, the United States will invite Europe's developed nations to join in the drive to secure Latin America.

The Kennedy administration is prepared to commit itself to a 10-year crash program to bolster Latin America. It is ready to start the program rolling with a billion dollar push in the first year.

Some Latin American delegates already were complaining that the billion dollars was not enough and included sums previously approved.

President Eduardo Victor Haedo of Uruguay and other Latin American leaders at the conference also were reported urging that President Kennedy reconsider his decision not to attend the conference because of the press of world affairs. These Latin Americans felt that an appearance by Kennedy would give Alliance for Progress a dramatic push and would offset to some extent the psychological impact on Latin America of the New Soviet space flight and Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech to the Soviet people tonight.

White House sources indicated, however, that the president would not change his decision to remain in the United States.

U. S. participation in the conference, American sources said, is no propaganda show, although there obviously is hope that it will have a strong psychological impact on the building up of Latin America's economic strength.

Senate Group Asks Hijacking Penalty Law

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON—Acting with rare speed, a Senate subcommittee today approved legislation to make hijacking of an airliner a federal crime punishable by life imprisonment.

The Senate aviation subcommittee gave its approval to the legislation in hopes of plugging a legal loophole against piracy in the air and other acts that threaten lives of airline crews and passengers.

The Senate panel was spurred by fears that widespread publicity about the loopholes may prompt "air drunks, flying fools and spies in the sky"—as a federal official put it—to think they can get away with a repetition of last week's El Paso, Tex., hijacking incident.

At El Paso, U.S. Dist. Judge R. E. Thomason called a special session of the federal grand jury today to hear testimony for possible indictment and trial against the Arizona father and son who hijacked a Continental Airlines jet over El Paso last Thursday.

Judge Thomason said if an indictment should be returned, Leon Bearden, 50, and his son, Cody, 16, would probably be arraigned in U.S. District Court either Thursday or Friday.

The two are being held in lieu of $100,000 bond each. They are charged with kidnaping and interstate transportation of a stolen aircraft.

The Beardens pulled guns on the crew of the Boeing 707 jet and forced the pilot to land at El Paso to take on additional fuel to fly to Cuba with 10 hostages from the 65 passengers aboard the plane.

Klahn Gets Award

Bert Klahn, executive director of the redevelopment agency of Marin County, has been awarded a certificate of appreciation from the housing and home finance agency for his work in "promoting better international relations and the ideal of home ownership and improved housing throughout the world."

Nasser Tightens Hold On Economy Of Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — After nine years in power, President Gamal Abdel Nasser today holds complete control of Egypt's economy.

In the past two weeks decrees, orders and clarifications have been issuing from the government aimed at sweeping away the last important vestiges of free enterprise.

Editorial writers of the nationalized press have been equally busy explaining to the public this is Arab socialism, not communism.

Whatever label is applied, the Egyptian economy is now one of the most tightly controlled outside the Iron Curtain, with the exception of Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Decrees on the ninth anniversary of the revolution all but completed the process, which began with seizure of foreign firms, nationalization of the Suez Canal, and now is finally overtaking all remaining important domestic enterprises.

Government spokesmen take pains to point out that the Egyptian course — unlike Soviet communism and Castro Cuba— is not motivated by revenge and privious owners have been reimbursed.

The newest measures, however, fell most solidly on the country's remaining stockholders on investors.

Since the decrees, gold has been in such demand it is virtually unobtainable on the local market. There also are recurring but completely unconfirmed rumors that some form of currency reform will flush out any hidden stores of wealth.

There also is fear new labor regulations will result in inflation. One of these regulations, for general application within a year, orders a 42-hour work week in place of 48, with production to be maintained by hiring new workers to take up the slack.

The government has also ordered an end to the wide practice of Egyptians holding two jobs. Consequently many Egyptians find themselves with their incomes halved.

Teamsters Again Reject Their Leaders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bay Area teamsters have rebuffed their leaders for a second time in negotiations with trucking firm representatives.

Yesterday, members of nine locals voting as a whole rejected their negotiators' recommendations for a 28-cent-an-hour three-year package. They also refused to vote strike sanction.

Earlier the Teamsters rejected a 20-cent package supported by Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

A federal mediator was scheduled to meet with Teamster officials and trucking firm representatives to seek a settlement in the dispute.

Involved are some 8,000 drivers and trucking operations that stretch from Santa Rosa south to Salinas.

Hoffa said Teamster leaders would hold a private session to discuss strategy.

The nine Bay Area locals are bargaining for a contract separately from locals elsewhere in 11 Western States.

Baccei of 2232 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, participated last month in Exercise "Tail Wind" off the California coast. He was serving aboard the guided missile light cruiser U.S.S. Oklahoma City.

Couple 'Adopts' Young French Boy

A seven-year-old French boy has been financially "adopted" by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Morgan of 230 Summit Avenue, San Rafael, through the Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., of New York City.

He is Madjid Selloum, one of nine children who live with their parents in a three room apartment. Madjid was born in Marseilles where his father brought the family from Algeria, hoping to find better employment opportunities and a better life.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will contribute $15 a month toward the child's support for at least a year.

Investment Firm Buys First Stock

One of the first investments made by the newly-formed Space Age Small Business Investment Co. of Marin was the purchase of capital stock in American Microwave and Television Corp., San Carlos.

President of the firm, which received its license last month, is Clyde A. Stevens, vice president of the Marin County Abstract and Title Co. of San Rafael. Stevens resides at 66 Sea Way, San Rafael.

Other officers of the group are: Robert S. Ingram of Belvedere and Gordon S. Dunn of San Rafael, vice presidents; Rufus Rhoades, of San Rafael, secretary and Capt. Kenneth A. Hulme of San Rafael, treasurer.

Western Picnic

BISHOP (UPI)—A special centennial celebration featuring a real Western picnic and pit barbecue will be held next Saturday in this Owens Valley community.

During the Ice Age bald cypress trees were common from what is now Alabama to New Jersey.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

COURT 'BURIES' OLD ROLL CALL OF OFFENSES

Deputy Dist. Atty. Charles L. Convis felt like a tobacco auctioneer for 15 minutes as he delivered a kind of ghost roll call Friday afternoon before Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Marin Municipal Court.

While the judge, court clerk, court reporter and spectators held fixed expressions of solemnity, Convis read the names and offenses listed in about 75 old warrants, some of them dating from 1929, which the sheriff's office had not been able to serve.

Convis said the district attorney's office requested that the warrants be given suitable burial via court order as they were cluttering the sheriff's records. The judge so ordered.

Boy's Saga Of Riding In 'Caravan'

There was an even dozen persons — including nine children — in the two cars driven by Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Yegge of Garden Grove, Orange County, when they stopped at a San Rafael service station about 5 p.m. yesterday, en route to the Russian River for vacation.

There were 14 when they drove away.

Minutes later, 8-year-old Mark Yegge emerged from the rest room. No car!

James B. Dowdy, attendant at the Standard Station at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue called San Rafael police. They radioed to Sonoma County authorities to stop Yegge and have him count noses.

At 7 p.m., Yegge telephoned San Rafael police headquarters from Petaluma. He'd counted. Thirty minutes later, he was back to pick up a highly disgusted 8-year-old.

"The darned kids!" complained Yegge. "They swapped cars every time we stopped."

Tiburon Chamber Lunch Tomorrow

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce will hear Kern Loo, 35 years manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. Chinatown Branch in San Francisco at its meeting tomorrow at noon in the Anchor Cafe, Main Street, Tiburon.

Loo, whose parents founded the Chinatown Telephone Exchange at the turn of the century, will speak on life in Chinatown, with special emphasis on the Chinese systems of banking, telephoning and credit.

Loo managed the Chinatown branch when his parents sold it to PT&T and is now in public relations for the company.

Chamber President William S. Johnstone has invited wives of members and guests to attend.

Mill Valleyan Gets Labor Department Job

A. Merrill Anderson of 250 Reed Boulevard, Mill Valley, has been named deputy director of the U. S. Labor Department's bureau of employment security in the western region. The area covers Arizona, California, Nevada and Hawaii.

The new deputy director began his government service in 1937 with the Minnesota State Employment Service. He came to the Labor Department's San Francisco staff when employment service advisor almost three years ago.

Breakthrough In Rocket Thrust Made

SUNNYVALE (AP)—The United Technology Corp. said today that the major roadblocks in the production of single rockets of up to three million pounds of thrust have been overcome as a result of tests it has just completed.

The announcement was made in the wake of what Gen. Donald L. Putt, UTC president, called "a successful firing of the nation's first operational prototype of a booster-size, segmented, solid propellant rocket motor."

The test firing took place Saturday at UTC's development center near Morgan Hill. It was conducted for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

NOSE DOWN

Fired nose down, the giant conical rocket motor, 26½ feet long and 7½ feet in diameter at its widest point, operated for 80 seconds and produced approximately 250,000 pounds of thrust.

The firing sent flames high above the facility's concrete test bay which is built to withstand thrusts of better than two million pounds.

By clustering such motors, UTC spokesmen said that thrusts as high as 25 million pounds can be produced.

SHORT BURNING

The 80-second burning time fulfilled the minimum requirements for an efficient and practical space booster. Shorter burning times for such rockets would impose excessive G-loads on either mechanical or human payloads, today's announcement said.

The announcement added that another break-through achieved by the test firing was that it marked the first time that a light-weight steel casing of exact flight design had been successfully used. Previously, only relatively heavy-walled test casings unsuitable for flight have been utilized.

The center section of the three - segment engine contained almost 30 tons of propellant, more than any single rocket segment ever built in the United States.

Lagunitas School Budget Approved

A Lagunitas School District budget was adopted without change from its $156,911 preliminary figure at a Thursday evening meeting of the district board.

This insured the full $2 tax rate per $100 valuation, which is the maximum rate. To this must be added an override of 17 or 18 cents to provide for Social Security, retirements, community service and county school program.

This year's budget is about $700 under the figure for last year.

The board discussed recent revived interest in civil defense and considered possibilities for Lagunitas but took no positive action.

Marin Medic Group Gets New Surgeon

Dr. Marvin L. Gerber, formerly chief of surgery at the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland, has joined the Marin Medical group in the Professional Center opposite Terra Linda. His practice is limited to general surgery.

A 1941 graduate of Stanford Medical School, Dr. Gerber has retired from the Navy after 20 years of service. He, his wife, Sally, and their three daughters live at 9 Cortes Court, Terra Linda.

SCIENCE AWARD — Robert J. Jenkins of 501 Midvale Avenue, Mill Valley, has been given the second annual award for scientific achievement at the Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory at San Francisco. The award came as a result of Jenkin's development of a technique to measure the response of materials and transfer of heat through metal.

Marinite Reports From Berlin

"The feeling is spreading rapidly that these days are the last chances to try for freedom," a Mill Valley exchange student writes from West Berlin.

Harry Herr Jr., spending the summer with a West Berlin family under the Experiment in International Living, wrote the Independent-Journal Aug. 3 in a letter received today.

"I am afraid to say that during my stay here in Berlin, the situation, politically, has gotten progressively worse."

"The growing outpouring of refugees from East to West Germany via Berlin — the one point at which passage from East to West has been simple— has resulted in tightening of restrictions in the East Zone, wrote the 17-year-old "student ambassador."

"Many people live in East Berlin and work in West Berlin. Now the situation is doubtful as to whether these individuals would be able to continue this routine," wrote young Herr. "The papers are printing the fear of the border between the two controls being closed altogether."

The Mill Valley youth, whose home is at 421 Rose Avenue, was preparing to leave Berlin as the letter was written. He and other "Experimenters" were to tour southern Germany, visit Austria and France, then fly to New York, their summer in Europe over.

Marin Artists Show

Three Marin County artists are represented in the exhibition of the California Society of Etchers at the San Francisco Museum of Art through Aug. 27. They are Max Pollak, John Ihle, and Doris Meyer.

The Palomar Observatory telescope has shown nearly a billion galaxies spangled across the heavens.

Flat-Footed Fly Hunters Off On Trip

Dr. and Mrs. Edward Kessel of Novato were to leave today on a month's search for the flat footed fly in the northwest territories of Northern Canada.

The couple will drive a camper-bus north, searching for fly specimens for "pure research" under a grant of $14,000 from the National Science Foundation.

TWO YEAR GRANT

The two-year grant will allow them to search for samples of platypezidae from New Mexico to Alaska, covering nearly all the western states and possibly Mexico, and for hiring of scientific aids, artists and photographic reproductions of their finds.

Dr. Kessel, 57, is chairman of the biology department of University of San Francisco and associate curator of insects for the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park.

With him on the expedition to the north will be Mrs. Kessel, who holds a master's degree in entymology from University of California at Berkeley, where she met her future husband when both were graduate students.

NEAR MUSHROOMS

"Our flies" are found near mushrooms while other members of the flat footed fly family are smoke lovers, Mrs. Kessel explains. They range in size from 3/32 of an inch to about a quarter of an inch in length.

They are nicknamed flat footed because members of the family have flattened back feet.

Mill Valley School District To Meet

Adoption of the 1961-62 budget will be before Mill Valley School District trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district office.

The budget is $1,106,400, compared with $1,109,400 last year, or $3,000 less. Basic tax rate is expected to be the same at $1.50, plus override taxes of 62 cents to total $2.12 per $100 assessed valuation.

Trustees will also discuss a request to the state to provide an advance apportionment to begin a study of mentally gifted students.

Navy Graduate

Thomas C. Clark, fireman apprentice in the U.S. Navy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville D. Clark of 411 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, will be graduated Tuesday from the electrician's mate school at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

shchev replied that was human and understandable.

Titov's young wife was reported to have spent most of her waiting time with Gagarin's wife, Valentina, at the Gagarins' new Moscow apartment listening to news broadcasts and the transmissions by her husband from the capsule. They have no children.

Gagarin received the apartment and a new car as rewards for his flight, and Titov was expected to be similarly endowed.

A reception exceeding Gagarin's in adulation was expected in Moscow when Titov returns.

Television stations scrapped regular programs and broadcast hour after hour of tribute to the spaceman and his flight.

The TV showed him doing calisthenics in a gymnasium in a bikini-like bathing suit, lounging on a beach, picking mushrooms, playing tennis in shorts, fishing, watering flowers and reading Pushkin's poems to his wife.

Titov told Khrushchev that "all the systems and equipment of the ship worked excellently." He said that the spacecraft actually orbited the earth 17 and one-half times.

That was explained by the earth's rotation on its axis and being in a different position when Vostov II landed.

Moldavian Academy of Sciences president Yakim Grosul said Titov's job was to investigate "man's work capacity during a sustained state of weightlessness."

During the flight, according to Moscow Radio, Titov:

Ate three meals, guided his 10,430 (correct) pound craft manually at times, broadcast goodwill messages to the world and did "sitting up exercises."

Slept eight hours—apparently longer than scheduled—as the space ship whirled him through space at 17,750 miles an hour.

Flew over every continent at heights ranging from 110.3 to 159.3 miles miles above the earth.

Apparently held up well under the prolonged period of weightlessness and loneliness, and suffered no immediate effects of any cosmic rediation.

Marin City Lot Choices Noted

Choice of lot sites for homes to be built in Unit 1 of the redevelopment area in Marin County Redevelopment Agency.

But those residents who make these choices now have no preference in the overall picture, executive director Bert Klahn said today.

Klahn said 18 people have come to his office to state their preferences for homesites but that, in the end, this is no commitment since all lot locations will be made with developer James H. Scheur or his representative.

Teener Jailed After Leading 80-mph Chase

Glen Lee Evers, 18, of 35 Tamalpais Road, San Anselmo, was jailed on six driving violation charges yesterday after leading a Fairfax officer on a 80-mile-per-hour chase on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Officer James Goodwin first saw Evers speeding on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard just past Bank Street in Fairfax. Goodwin gave chase and finally stopped Evers' westbound auto on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Forest Knolls.

Goodwin estimated Evers had attained speeds up to 80 miles per hour during the long chase. When he finally stopped him, Goodwin was assisted by Sheriff's officers Robert Bertram and Kenneth Irving.

Evers was to appear today in municipal court to answer for charges of evading arrest, failure to heed flashing red light and siren, crossing over the double line, drunk driving, reckless driving and speeding. No bail was set.

Corte Madera Council To Meet

Award of a contract for reconstruction of Sausalito Street between Tamalpais Drive and Buena Vista will be considered by the Corte Madera Town Council at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the town hall.

The council will also set a date for public hearing on the budget.

Other items to be considered by the council include the report by the town attorney on the town's responsibility for reconstructing the drainage system in Marina Village and nonconforming signs in commercial zones.

Auto Catches Fire, But Driver Unhurt

Mrs. Carol K. Ziegler of 133 Granada Drive, Corte Madera escaped without injury when her car caught fire on the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday.

The California Highway Patrol said the woman reported she was driving her car toward Marin when fire broke out under its instrument board. The car was completely destroyed.

Mechanic Injured In Cycle Accident

Angus David Murdoch, 25-year-old mechanic from Pacifica, San Mateo County, suffered head injuries when his motorcycle went out of control and smashed against a bank on a curve on Highway 1 in Marin County yesterday.

He was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital.

review of the Soviet internal situation before switching to the international scene.

The burly Soviet premier faced the cameras wearing a gray striped suit, a pearl gray tie and a white shirt. There were three gold medals on his chest.

Khrushchev's speech was translated simultaneously into the principal Western languages and beamed directly to Africa in English.

In praising Titov's sustained orbital journey around the earth for more than 25 hours, he said the Soviet people had taken yet another step forward toward interplanetary flight.

But then he launched quickly into a review of the Soviet Union's position at home and abroad and reserved strong language for the present state of international tension.

"The Western powers," he said, "are now pushing the world to a dangerous brink, and the threat of a military attack by the imperialists on the socialist states is not ruled out.

"We shall watch the developments and act, depending on how the situation shapes up."

No Bids Received On Post Office

No bids have been received by the Post Office Department in San Francisco for the proposed new Tomales post office and difficulties are slowing the awarding of a bid for the construction of a new post office in Stinson Beach.

John Mahon, assistant to the regional real estate manager of the post office department, said the department had received no bids for the Tomales Post Office but it was possible that they will be readvertised.

He said sewage difficulties are slowing the awarding of the contract for the new post office in Stinson Beach. He said the two present post offices will remain in operation.

He hopes to receive bids for the Stinson Beach project in about a month.

Estimated Damage Of Fire: $3,500

Fire that began in a woodshed did damage estimated at $3,500 to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Page in Bolinas Highlands yesterday.

Charles R. Page Jr., noticed the fire about 8 a.m. and awakened his parents. All three escaped safely.

County Fire Warden Sherman Smith of Bolinas blamed spontaneous combustion in the woodshed for the blaze. Two Bolinas Fire Department units were aided by a county fire truck from Woodacre in a 20-minute fight which controlled the fire.

Seizure Held Death Cause; Gun In Hand

The proprietor of a Larkspur cleaning shop was found dead in her shop today with a revolver in her hand and a suicide note near-by, but Coroner Frank J. Keaton said she had died a natural death and the gun was not fired.

Mrs. Frances Jeffress, 64, of 116 Edison Avenue, Corte Madera, owner of Monty's Cleaners at 476 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur, was found in a chair at the rear of the shop, slumped over a sewing machine.

The body was found about 8:30 a.m. by Mrs. Albert L. Boland of 250 Morningside Drive, Corte Madera, who called Larkspur police and the coroner.

Keaton said he found a .32 caliber automatic pistol in Mrs. Jeffress' right hand and a note on the near-by counter addressed to him. He said he had been a personal friend of Mrs. Jeffress.

The note indicated her funeral plans and said:

". . . At the end just call it ill health, thank you."

Keaton said the gun had not been fired and it appeared she had died a natural death. An autopsy was to be performed today. Keaton said Mrs. Jeffress had been suffering from cancer and was in very poor health.

"The thought of suicide must have been the last straw," he said.

Keaton said Mrs. Jeffress had been taken to the cleaning establishment yesterday at 9 p.m. by taxicab. The driver returned an hour later but not seeing Mrs. Jeffress, he assumed she had gone home.

Hub Council Sets Special Meeting

San Anselmo city councilmen will discuss a proposed citizens advisory committee for downtown development at a special meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in the city hall.

The development, estimated at two million dollars, would rebuild the downtown area with pedestrial shopping malls, new streets and additional parking areas.

City Atty. John C. Buresh will also bring before the council certain "litigation matters."

The regular meeting of the council will be held tomorrow at 8 p.m.

Women Reported Suffering Attacks

Two women were reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today after collapsing at public places in the county yesterday.

Mrs. Herman Steinhardt, 86, suffered an attack at a restaurant in San Rafael about 5 p.m. Doctor's reported her ailment was a digestive disorder.

Mrs. Ivan E. Duvall, about 49, of Castro Valley suffered pains in her chest while driving in Sausalito.

Man Says He Saw A Mountain Lion

A man told police he saw a "40-to-50-pound" mountain lion on a hill near the Racquet Club in San Rafael Saturday.

Officer Thomas Cheetam suggested that it might have been an alley cat or a big dog, but Earl C. Farnsworth of 20 Sirard Lane said he had hunted mountain lions and knew one when he saw one.

Khrushchev: That is good. It means that you have a healthy organism if, after strenuous work, you can have a good rest and make yourself wake up when needed so as to resume your duties. Your will power and your organism, are in correct order. This is very good. Well, Gherman Stepanovich, we are expecting you in Moscow. I kiss you and emrbace you by telephone for the time being. But when we meet you at the airport I'll embrace you in a fatherly manner as the dearest and beloved son of our country.

Titov: Thank you Nikita Sergeivitch, thank you very much.

Krushchev: I wish you successes. Go and rest. You have earned your rest.

Titov: I thank you from the bottom of my heart, Nikita Sergeivitch. Au revoir."

2 Hamilton Base Officers Retire

Lt. Col. Lamont Saxton of Corte Madera and Col. James J. Roberts, whose home is in Riverside, retired from the Air Force at Hamilton Field after 26 and 31 years service respectively.

Lt. Col. Saxton, who lives at 82 Granada in Corte Madera, was the Inspector General for the Sixth Air Force Reserve Region. He plans to become a field underwriter for the New York Life Insurance Co. at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Col. Roberts' most recent position in the Air Force was that of chief Pacific liaison officer for the Civil Air Patrol at the base. He has no immediate plans for employment in Riverside at the present.

Judge Brusatori Has 'Mild Heart Attack'

Judge N. Charles Brusatori suffered a "mild heart attack" and was taken to San Rafael General Hospital early today.

Dr. Rolla B. Hess, who has treated the 58-year-old judge on other occasions, said the judge was resting easily shortly before noon and "the reports are good."

Liquor Stolen

Henry G. Shapiro of 520 Canal Street, Apartment 5, San Rafael, reported to police yesterday that sometime last week five cases of liquor were stolen from his carport locker.

Do Germs Cause Disease?

by Dr. Robert W. Pearce

There are many types of germs and all of them have a place in the scheme of things, just as insects, birds, fish and animals are necessary to maintain the balance of nature. You may be a normal healthy man or woman but at this moment there are multitudes of beneficial germs at work within your body. Without them you would become desperately ill . . . These are the germs we seldom read about in the newspapers and magazines.

Take as an example the colon bacillus (escheri-chia coli), a germ which is essential to good health. It breaks down waste matter in the bowels for easier elimination and does other important jobs. Other varieties of germs perform equally important work in other parts of the body. The atmosphere around us is always thick with germs — some good, some bad—but we are not always sick. Why not?

Resistance to germs and disease depends on the proper functioning of the nervous system, the master system of the body. When the nerve supplying a certain organ is pinched or blocked by a misaligned bone in the spine, the affected organ will lose its resistance. Disease strikes when germs begin to prey on the weakened organs, but the same germs are powerless against a healthy organ.

Often, an organ will regain its strength and fight off disease germs once the interference with its nerve supply is corrected.

Chiropractors are experts in restoring and maintaining nerve function. They do this by finding the nerve interference in the spine and by adjusting the misaligned spinal bone (vertebra) quickly and painlessly by hand.

An efficient nervous system is the foundation of good health.

COTTON CANDY 'N' CIRCUS FUN

Nearly 6,000 Marin youngsters turned out Saturday for two performances of James Brothers Variety Circus on the College of Marin football field, sponsored by the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce. The afternoon show suffered from heat, microphone trouble and slow pace—but it was enjoyed just the same by the children, most of whom got free tickets as Jaycees sold large blocks of tickets to businessmen and other supporters which were distributed free at the gate. Jimmy Timmer, 7, found cotton candy added to the pleasure of circus going. The four youngsters below, fascinated with a unicycle act, are (from left) Karen Kessler, 6; Toni Rosenberg, 6; Amy Curtis, 4, and Bill Curtis, 6. (Independent-Journal photos)

Dying Soblen Given Life For Spying

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Robert Soblen, convicted as a wartime Soviet spy in the United States, was sentenced today to spend the rest of his life—estimated at less than a year—in prison.

The Lithuanian-born psychiatrist, 60, is dying of lymphatic leukemia.

The gaunt one-time minion of Soviet secret police chief Lavrenti R. Beria stood to hear sentence from Federal Judge William B. Herlands. He paled as he heard the life sentence and collapsed. The screams of his sister, Mrs. Anya Chasins, filled the courtroom.

DENIED ACTS

Earlier in the nearly two-hour court session, Soblen denied that he had acted as an espionage agent for Russia since 1945 and pleaded to spend the remaining months of his life with his wife, Dr. Dina Soblen, his daughter, Jean Stuttman, and his grandchildren. His attorney, Joseph Brill, also pleaded for clemency.

But Herlands, who had told Soblen that he considered espionage analogous to mass murder, sentenced him "to spend the rest of your natural life in prison." Soblen will be taken to the federal prison at Springfield, Mo. shortly to begin sentence.

ATOMIC BOMB

Soblen was convicted July 13 by a Federal court jury on both counts of a two-count indictment charging him with conspiring to commit espionage and actually transmitting defense secrets obtained from the office of strategic services to Russia. The secrets are believed to have included some details of atomic bomb design and production.

Herlands imposed the life sentence on the second count. He gave Soblen a 10-year concurrent sentence on the conspiracy charge.

The chief government witness against Soblen was his brother, Jack Soble, who is serving a 7½ year term for espionage. He testified that he and Soblen agreed to become spies for Russia in order to get their families out of Communist-seized Lithuania.

Store Opens In Sausalito

The Colony Custom Frames and Prints, specializing in custom framing, grass matting and velvet mats, has been opened at 201 Caledonia Street in Sausalito by Betty de Prado.

Mrs. de Prado, who lives in Sausalito Yacht Harbor on Pier 4, was formerly associated with the Mart at 701 Bridgeway.

The gallery which is connected with the shop is now displaying works of local artists Otto Hittsberger, Lynn Wood, Val Bleeker, Nan Fowler and Ned Pankin.

No Further Sliding Reported In Larkspur

No further sliding has occurred in the slip-out on Doherty Drive in Larkspur over the weekend, City Manager Ronald E. Piper reported today.

A 225-foot section of the road, under construction for the city, gave way Thursday and slid into the swamp. The road will connect Henry C. Hall School with Redwood High School.

Engineer John C. Oglesby was to meet with Piper this afternoon to decide the course of action to remedy the slide.

The city may get a floating dredge to take mud from the swamp an pile it alongside the fill to make a wider base for the road, Piper said. However, "We cannot get that rig until the last week in August," he reported. This would delay opening the street past the beginning of school.

An alternate would be to fill on top of the slip-out, hoping it had stabilized enough to hold, Piper said.

Daly City Negro Moving Out—Harrassment

DALY CITY (UPI)—A Negro doctor has told police he is leaving his newly rented home in the all white Westlake district here because of harrassment of his two children.

Dr. Price M. Cobbs, a psychiatric intern at the University of California Medical Center, said his son, Price, 3, was terrified to leave the house because of name-calling and physical abuse from neighborhood children.

He told Daly City police both he and his wife, a physical education instructor, had been subject to "covert hostility" since they moved into their $150 a month house three months ago.

The climax, he said, came Saturday night when a rock was thrown through a window.

The cult of Isis, which promised immortality and bodily resurrection, spread from Egypt to Greece, Rome and Britain, challenging Christianity for a time.

Demo Group Urges Park At Pt. Reyes

The California Democratic Council went on record yesterday urging establishment of the Point Reyes National Seashore on 53,000 acres.

A resolution by Hans J. Schiller of Mill Valley called on Congress to pass a bill by Rep. Clem Miller of Corte Madera establishing a 53,000-acre national park in West Marin.

The bill (H.R. 2775) is to come up for hearing Friday before the House interior committee in Washington, when proponents, including the National Park Service, are scheduled to testify. Opponents testified earlier.

The Democratic council resolution, which was supported on the floor at its San Francisco meeting by Gerald Hill, regional vice president from Mill Valley, declared the park area "is being systematically whittled down for unnecessary housing development." The word "substandard," referring to the housing, was included by the committee but deleted by the convention.

In other resolutions, the council approved President Kennedy's plans for Berlin, disarmament, a peace agency, medical care for the aged, and a federal cabinet post for urban renewal.

It also decided to hold no statewide issues conference this year. Instead, five area conferences will be held.

Schiller was appointed chairman of the regional resolutions committee; Richard Adams of Belvedere, regional chairman of the by-laws committee; Vincent MacKenzie of San Anselmo, a member of the credentials committee.

The Marin delegation played host to the convention at a cocktail party Saturday before dinner.

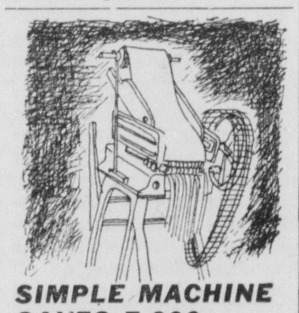

Rotary Sponsors Swim Lessons

The Novato Rotary Club will sponsor a series of swimming lessons beginning Wednesday for all comers, not limited to Novato residents.

The lessons will be offered in half-hour session between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at the David Bellucci Pool at the Skylark Motel opposite Hamilton Air Force Base on Highway 101.

The sessions will run from Aug. 9 through Aug. 30 Registrations are being accepted at the Novato Chamber of Commerce office in the Patio, 864 Grant Avenue.

Anyone at least seven years of age is eligible to sign up for the program, under instructor Mrs. Willard Denny Jr. of Novato. The Rotary Club will pay instructors and life guards and for insurance; student fees will cover pool use.

SIMPLE MACHINE SAVES 7,000 KOREANS FROM STARVING

Until a simple noodle-making machine was brought to South Korea, 7,000 orphans, widows and students were on the verge of starvation. Now, 500 miles of noodles a day, every day, are made from American wheat flour, corn meal and powdered milk—and Kyonggi's hungry people can face the future with new hope and courage.

This life-saving assistance is the direct result of Americans supporting their faith's Overseas Aid Program. While this endeavor is Catholic, all three great faiths—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—maintain extensive relief programs.

The needs of millions are being met, one by one . . . and the work must go on. These religion-sponsored programs are often the only hope for destitute millions throughout the free world. Next time you are asked to support your faith's Overseas Aid Program, remember what just simple noodles can mean in terms of human life.

Kennedy Signs Cape Cod Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy, expressing "great interest" personally, signed into law today a bill creating a national seahore park on Cape Cod.

Kennedy signed the bill shortly after returning from his summer home at Hyannis Port, Mass., only 25 miles from the area set aside for the park.

In signing the bill, Kennedy said "I join Congress in hoping that this will be one of a series of great seashore parks that will be of benefit to all of the people."

Several congressmen joined Kennedy in his office as he signed the legislation creating the 26,666-acre seashore park, the first since the Cape Hatteras, N.C., National Recreation Area was established in 1937.

Kennedy said the park on Cape Cod was a "wise use of our natural resources." He said he was certain that people going to the cape will "benefit" from the creation of the seashore area.

The new law is designed to preserve the national beauty of historic Cape Cod.

State Park Camping Could Be Doubled At No Expense

The vacationists driving California's highways these days have found one consistent, self-evident fact—the state parks are being used to capacity.

There is no doubt about the use of our parks. A motorist who isn't willing to stop about 4 p.m. hasn't a chance of getting into one of them. In many of the parks, only a handful of camping sites become available daily as most vacationers stay a week, 10 days or whatever the maximum time limit is.

We have no complaint with these stay-oners. That's one of the reasons the state parks exist, to provide a comfortable, beautiful and interesting spot in which vacationers can enjoy their days away from home and the office.

The parks provide a second camping service, however. And here we feel they aren't doing the job they could and should. The parks are also available to the tourist or vacationist who doesn't have time to spend a week or so, but would like to spend the night with his trailer or bed-equipped car.

There is an extremely simple state park regulation which could be changed and nearly double the over-night capacity of our parks system—with practically no expenditure of funds.

At present no camping is allowed anywhere in a state park except in a developed, numbered camp site. Each night, however, a huge developed area of the park is kept vacant. We refer to the picnic areas.

Now we are not trying to encroach on the picnic facilities at the park. They are a needed and useful third service the parks provide. All we suggest is that they be used 24 hours a day, not just during daylight hours.

Isn't it logical to allow tourists with trailers or with cars equipped with bedding facilities to park in the picnic areas after the picnickers leave, providing they are gone before the picnickers start arriving the next day?

All an over-night tourist needs is a safe place to park (recent tragic events prove the roadside is not such a safe place) and toilet facilities.

Picnic areas in state parks provide both, unused every night.

Recently we had occasion to travel down Highway 1 south of Monterey. We decided to stop over night at Morro Beach State Park. It was full. We went on to Pismo Beach State Park. It was full too and the ranger told us he had turned away 200 cars. But he added:

"If you want to stay overnight, there is a county park right over there," indicating a place about two blocks away.

We did. We investigated. The county attendant told us, "Safe place to park? Sure, right there on the street where you are. You can use our restrooms." We had a station wagon equipped with a bed. We stayed.

The next morning we saw where the trailers were. The county let them park in a big, brown field. They circled, like they were expecting an Indian attack. Only facilities were two chemical toilets moved in by the county.

The trailers started to move out about 7 a.m.. By 8:30 they were all on their way.

Two blocks away an empty state picnic grounds with tables and toilets with running water went unused all night long.

If the State Park Commission would change the regulations so over-night, self-contained tourists could use the picnic areas providing they checked out by 9 a.m., additional cost to the state would be infinitessimal, probably only the emptying of a little more garbage and more water for the restrooms. Yet the parks would hold about twice as many over-night campers. One-night campers could be channeled to the picnic grounds, leaving the developed camp sites for long-time vacationers.

We hope they give this suggestion serious consideration.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Grateful To Young Generation

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Just a few minutes ago I had reason to be very grateful to our younger generation.

On my way home I stalled at the crest of Wolf Grade, a very bad spot indeed. With cars coming from both directions, I was very unhappy so when a young man came along and offered to help, it was quite a relief.

In a few minutes he had my car going. When I asked what I could do to repay him, he said there was no charge. Instead he handed me a card "Road Runners Of Marin."

I, for one, think our young people are pretty nice and I belong to the older generation.

Fallout Shelters Make No Sense

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Throughout history the American people have shown an uncanny ability to make the right choice. But now well meaning people in Civil Defense are urging us to make decisions without giving us the complete story.

In 1943, 900 British planes dropped blockbusters for 10 nights on Hamburg. Despite good warnings and shelters 70,000 people died. In 1952 one U. S. H-bomb vaporized a Marshall Island 12 miles long. This one bomb was 16-17 times more powerful than all of the bombs dropped by both sides during the entire six years of World War II. To reproduce this force the British fliers would have had to bomb Hamburg every night for 42 years.

No wonder no one is talking about shelters for the blast, suffocation, and heat effects in target areas.

The shelter program is designed to provide protection for those outside the immediately damaged area. But does it? If a single H-bomb fell in San Francisco the survivors in Petaluma, Walnut Creek and San Jose are told to come out after just two weeks. In 1946 an old fashioned A-bomb was exploded underwater at Bikini. Some of the test ships on which the radioactive water fell could not be boarded for one year except briefly by men in special protective clothing. Others had to be sunk.

One modern dirty H-bomb can cover up to 7,000 square miles with fallout. If one considers the long life of many of the constituents of fallout, one cannot find a factual explanation as to why two weeks has been selected as the necessary hiding period.

The only good scientific justification presented for the two weeks limit is that it represents the average human tolerance limits for close confinement. Furthermore the CD booklet itself stresses the necessity of washing off all contaminated surfaces. But it doesn't mention where to find the huge quantities of uncontaminated water and the intact power supply and pipes to do this.

There may or may not be acceptable alternatives to death by nuclear warfare but fallout shelters are not one of them.

At best this program represents plain silliness.

At worst it represents a cynical effort to promote an unjustified sense of security. Since when has it become necessary to build a world of make believe for fear that otherwise the American people will behave dishonorably?

Talk Of War, None Of Peace

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I feel very strongly about this "call to arms" bit.

As a citizens of the U. S., a mother and a doctor's aide in obstetrics I see babies being born every day and am aware of schools being enlarged to house the growing. New places of learning going up all around us.

But pray tell me, who will be left to go into these schools if we continue to woo war the way we're doing? Maybe this sounds dire, but let's face it, we used to think it stupid when the Kamikazes took off on their suicidal flights during the last war, or, I should say, the second world war. Well, isn't that what we are doing now? Eagerly, yes, eagerly (look at your Wall Street Journal) flying into the cannon's mouth.

Beware the Jabberwock! There's too much talk of war and none of peace!

You Aren't So Very Worthless; —Body's Chemicals Now 98 Cents

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail!

Do you feel more worthwhile? You should. The chemicals in your body used to be worth 87 cents, now they're worth about 98 cents.

Today's college man is no Beau Brummell. He has an average of only 2.9 suits.

Now is the time to be careful. Accidents hit a peak in the summer months, are lowest in the months of January, February and March.

Worth repeating: Half the world's miseries are caused by hardness of heart — the other half by softness of head.

Odd items about famous folk: Singer Polly Bergen modeled bathing suits as a teen-ager, didn't learn to swim until last summer. Sigmund Freud, the father of psychoanalysis, smoked 20 cigars a day. Thomas Jefferson, who drafted the U.S. Declaration of Independence, studied up to 15 hours daily as a college student.

Long-winded: The oldest president at the start of his term in office, William Henry Harrison, 68 years, 23 days, delivered the longest inaugural address—more than 8,000 words. Wearing neither hat nor great coat he rode on horseback through a storm to the ceremony, caught a cold and died a month later. Pride led him to his tomb.

While we're on this subject, we might as well admit Harrison, a general, in that speech used the personal pronoun "I" a record 45 times . . . a colonel, Theodore Roosevelt, was the only president who never used the word "I" in his inaugural address, yet he was one of the most magnetic and forceful of our national leaders.

News in its nose: A bloodhound doesn't trail just footprints. It follows the entire body scent of a lost or fugitive person, and can in damp weather smell him half a mile away, or follow him 10 days later along his path.

The growth of an industry: The number of aircraft produced in America increased from a known 45 in 1912 to an estimated 10,881 in 1960. But wartime 1945 was the fabulous year: The U.S. built 95,272 military planes, contrasting with 1909 when it produced one.

WISECRACK of the week: Divorces are getting so friendly, says Tom Jones, that alimony should be called "palimony."

Coals to Newcastle: The Irish are rich in lions. Some 550 lion cubs have been born in the Dublin Zoo during its 127-year history . . . Many have been exported all over the world, including—of all places—Africa.

WE ALL START small. The whale and the mouse b\n from an egg of approximately the same size.

It was Anatole France who observed, "We do not know what to do with this short life, yet we want another which will be eternal."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

In a federal court in New Mexico, a granite-visaged old Indian came up on a charge of manufacturing and selling fire water. He showed no sign of recognition when the judge or the lawyer appointed for him by the court spoke to him. The judge, anxious to get on with the day's work, decided, "This old boy evidently doesn't understand a word of English. Probably he's unaware he even broke a law. Case dismissed."

Informed that he was free to go, the Indian nevertheless remained in the courtroom and listened while a white man, up on an identical charge, made an impassioned declaration of his innocence.

The judge consigned him to the jug for six months.

At this the grizzled Indian arose, and addressed the court: "White man," he remarked, with just the shadow of a smile, "talk too darn much."

They had to fire a full-blooded Indian bartender at a Newark inn recently. He did his work faithfully, but they couldn't cure him of charging everybody $24 for a Manhattan.

Camping Out Makes Your Vacation Seem Much, Much Longer

The other day we went camping. It seemed perfectly natural. If you live in Marin under short trees, you should take your vacation in the Sierra under tall trees.

Camping is great. No telephones. No typewriters. No teletypes.

Another thing. It makes your vacation seem longer. My wife said "it was the longest vacation I've ever had."

But the boys really love camping out. They don't have to take baths. Actually, this is not fully true since, when you camp, a swim each day is required. But no soap because of the fish.

Our bathing place had hot and cold running water. It was a river at the confluence with a large creek. The creek was cold. The river was warm. There were always from eight to a dozen other people there.

ON OUR LAST day, when we were the dirtiest, we went for a swim. At last we had the pool to ourselves. There was not a soul there. Then we learned it was because tailings were being dumped into the river from a nearby gold mine.

Speaking of mining, the creeks and streams near our camp were full of miners. People panned. This is an excuse to sit on a rock with feet in the water and day dream. Only one panner we met found any of the real stuff.

One man had a home made contraption with his lawn edger from home used for the machinery. He shoveled in the sand which ran down a sluiceand his wife sat beside him saying, "We're not doing so well" and "He never works this hard at home." The man said he had a few grains of gold but he was hush-hush about showing them to us.

OTHER PEOPLE dressed in black skin suits and water masks and stood on their heads under water looking for the golden stuff.

We didn't have a timepiece so the second day the children built a sun dial from an old tree stump and some nails to tell the hours. It worked quite well once we got it set from the village 10 minutes away. The thing which delighted the boys was when it was time to go to bed, by moon, the clock read 3.

We borrowed a tent for women and boys. It was supposed to look like an umbrella but, set on a slope, it looked like a bent tent. At night the moon got in my eyes, and kept me awake. In the morning, myself an outdoorsman, sleeping under Spanish oaks, found woodpeckers who broke acorns above, who ate a few dabs and then tried to hit me on the head.

THE FOURTH day my wife threatened to take the bus and boys back to facilities. That was the day we found, on return to camp, a long black and yellow snake asleep in the middle of camp.

"He's after us," my wife said. "He's waiting for us." Under the boys' fascinated stares, the snake slipped quietly off into the brush.

By camp book instructions, we built a table of two small logs and some other things and tied it with rope between two trees. Relatives, on a brief one-day visit, said "it's a trap."

ON THE SEVENTH day I broke my back moving some stones and logs. From that day on I had two backs. It is the most vivid feeling you can imagine. Can't sneeze, laugh nor carry water.

The big event of the day was in the evening when we went to the village for a treat. This was either a bottle of soda or frozen orange juice on a stick. It was hot and the grocery store staved open all night selling sodas.

On the 11th day a woodpecker hit me on the head with an acorn. And here we are. God bless Mill Valley.

Britain Joining European Common Market May Be Year's Top News

WASHINGTON — There is good news—and there is no need to understate it.

Something solidly beneficial is being added to the credit side of the ledger; the whole free world is the gainer.

I refer to the action which the Macmillan government is taking to join the European Common Market and to extend the six-nation area of continental free trade to include Great Britain.

In excitement it won't touch the Gagarin-Shepard space flights. But in significance for the people on this planet and in furthering the strength of the West—this development is invaluable.

I do not exaggerate when I suggest that when editors begin tallying the biggest news in 1961, they will now have something which will match and perhaps, outmatch Nikita Khrushchev's thrust at Berlin or any other of his cold war gambits.

BRITAIN'S DECISION to apply for membership in the European Common Market is one of the most constructive economic and political actions undertaken by any Western nation since the Marshall Plan and NATO. It is, indeed, the long-sought culmination of the Marshall Plan because it brings into being the foundation and the full outlines of a United States of Europe.

If Prime Minister Macmillan's bid to become a partner in the European Common Market wins a ready response on the continent—and it almost certainly will—this will mean that, besides the great free trade area within the United States, the free world will soon have another virile, freely competitive economy serving some 250,000,000 people and embracing France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, and the British Isles.

ALREADY ON the continent a dynamic, rapidly growing consumer economy is steadily replacing the high-price, slow-growth cartelized economy which held back Europe so long. Now export manufacturers in Britain will have to respond to the bracing winds of new competition, but for this new competition they will get a vast new market potential. The end result should be a boon to both—to the British economy and to the European consumer.

The expanding European economic unification is bringing a degree of European political integration which the most optimistic thought unattainable a few years ago. Euratom, by which the six member states pool their resources for the development of atomic power for peaceful uses, and the coal and steel community which directs two great industries on a Europe-wide basis, are already functioning. The members of the European Common Market aim to achieve closer political integration.

THE DEFENSE structure for a United Western Europe already exists in NATO. By virtue of NATO, the danger of a resurgent German militarism as a peril either to France or to the Soviet Union is most effectively in check since the German armed forces are under the control of NATO and nuclear weapons are under the control of the United States.

Joining the European Common Market obviously does not guarantee to solve all Britain's economic difficulties. But it provides the best possible prospects of solving them.

Gallinas, San Geronimo Master Plan Adopted

Master plans for the Gallinas and San Geronimo Valleys were unanimously adopted on second readings by the Marin County Planning Commission today.

Dates for hearing of both by the county supervisors will be set at 2 p.m. Aug. 15.

Both were given lengthy final discussion, with stress on the influence of the civic center on the Santa Venetia-Gallinas Valley plan and on recreational development in the San Geronimo area. Neither underwent drastic revision.

A restriction to minimum of one acre per family in the Santa Venetia area, included in the first plan, was changed to "overall density no greater than one-family residence per acre" south of North San Pedro and San Pablo Roads.

"An acre is an awful lot of land . . . Present development has many 7,500 square foot lots and it would be unfair to insist that all the others be an acre apiece," said attorney Bryan McCarthy, appearing for a property owners.

Emil Lauchenauer's petition to rezone to "highway commercial" property east of Highway 101 and north to San Pedro Road, held up for adoption of the Gallinas master plan, was again delayed to Sept. 11 to check reports that the state highway division wanted some of the land.

Planning director Mary Summers promised to have printed versions embodying all latest suggestions, before the supervisors' hearings.

Two Hurt As Four Cars Pile Up In San Anselmo

An 18-year-old Woodacre mother and a San Rafael woman were injured in an accident that wrecked four cars on Greenfield Avenue in San Anselmo Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Vickie Ann Barone of Woodacre and Mrs. Evelyn C. Younger of 418 Belle Avenue, San Rafael were treated at Marin General Hospital for neck injuries and bruises.

Police Officer George Alberigi said Mrs. Younger told him she was pulling out of a parking place when her car collided with one driven by Mrs. Barone. The impact knocked the latter car into two parked cars.

Mrs. Barone was taken to the hospital by Marin Ambulance. Mrs. Younger said she was not injured, but fainted at the scene and was taken to the hospital by Police Officer Allan Perry.

Felon Suffers Wound In Neck

Garry Del Mastro, 18, suffered a one-half-inch cut in his neck when he was stabbed by an unidentified assailant during a fight in the San Quentin Prison yard Saturday.

Del Mastro, a youth Authority ward from Butte County, was stabbed just before a prison guard arrived at the scene. Del Mastro was treated at the prison hospital, reported Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

The youth had been at San Quentin 10 days.

Sub-Standard Lots Drawing More Fire

"Save Marin," an organization of Almonte and Homestead residents, is taking its fight against developers building on substandard lots to the board of supervisors and the Marin County Redevelopment Agency.

The group asked the redevelopment agency today to approve an "open land owner-participation redevelopment program" for the area. Under this program, the agency would purchase sub-standard lots to be reparceled into larger building lots to comply with an agency master plan.

REPORT OF PROMISE

Hugh Brown, Save Marin chairman, said Supervisor J. Walter Blair has promised to seek a one-year emergency ordinance to prohibit building on substandard lots in Almonte, Homestead and Tamalpais Valley.

The ordinance would provide time to enable a study to be made to investigate the practicability of a permanent zoning ordinance to the same effect. Brown said County Counsel E. Warren McGuire is seeking an opinion of Attorney General Stanley Mosk on such an ordinance's legality.

The homeowners' campaign began four months ago when members criticized Mill Valley City Councilman George Blackwell for building on a substandard Almonte lot.

OPEN LAND

Many of the lots in the Almonte-Homestead-Tamalpais Valley area are 2,500 square feet, whereas the minimum zoning now is 6,000 square feet.

Brown said the redevelopment program allows for federal purchase and resale of open land to create adequate-sized building sites.

"It will not involve purchase of any existing homes. It will not entail local bond issues or taxes or require any investment by local or county residents. It will provide for individual purchase of the newly created lots and not mean tract developments," he said.

Belvedere Firemen To Elect Officers

The Belvedere volunteer firemen will elect officers at their meetng Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the firehouse, according to John A. Ericson.

Nominated for president is A. D. Anderson; vice president, Ronald A. Simpson; treasurer, Elmer Fraass; secretary, William A. McLean.

Volunteers will make final plans for their annual dance scheduled for Aug. 25 at the Corinthian Yacht Club.

Reservations may be made with the association's social chairman Robert A. McLean.

West Marin Lions Get New Officers

Joseph G. Horick is the new president of the West Marin Lions Club.

Other new officers, installed recently by Al McNair, deputy district governor of Region Four, were Gus Kovats, first vice president; Doug Joslin, second vice president; Fred Rodoni, third vice president; Charles Denman, secretary; Tony Taveggia, treasurer; James Alberigi, lion tamer; Ralph Giacomini, tail twister; new directors Dale McCoy and Fred Saam and holdover directors Alfred Grosssi and Joe Mendoza.

ROSS IS GIVEN TREE SERVICE 'ON THE HOUSE'

If business does not come to them, the Airborne Tree Service goes to business.

Yesterday about 4 p.m. two representatives of the company, located at 172 Picnic Avenue in San Rafael, saw Ross Asst. Police Chief L. E. Flowers holding the end of a broken elm limb aloft so cars could pass underneath.

One of the tree specialists, Ernest Quintana, 24, scrambled aloft and removed the offending limb, which was suspended over a power line on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Winship Avenue in Ross.

The service was "on the house," said Fred Grange, 18, driver of the company truck.

Clothing On Line: Lost — And Found

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Wanda Lane of Des Moines called police the other day to report that clothing she valued at $50 had been stolen the night before from the clothes line at her home.

A few minutes later she called back and asked police to cancel her report. She added: "A good Samaritan took the clothes down and left them in a basket on the back porch."

Two Quentin Felons Escape Camp, One Is Captured In Santa Rosa

A San Quentin Prison inmate, one of two who escaped a prison camp in Humboldt County during the weekend, was captured last night after he left his prison coat at a service station as payment for gasoline for a stolen car.

Daniel Blanco, 31, who entered the prison last year from Los Angeles County for narcotics possession, forgery and grand theft., was missing Saturday at the 10:15 p.m. check, said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

He was captured at 8:30 p.m. yesterday in Santa Rosa by California Highway Patrolman John O'Brien.

The other escapee, serving time for forgery in Los Angeles County, Clifford Kusta, 32, was still at large today.

After leaving the High Rock Prison Camp near Weott, Humboldt County, Blanco stole a car registered to Harold W. Forsyth of Carmichael, Sacramento County.

He stopped to buy gasoline at a service station in Geyserville. He told the attendant he did not have any money and left his coat for security. After he left, the attendant looked at the label on the coat and found it had prison markings.

He called highway patrol officers and gave the description of the man and the car. Blanco was arrested on Highway 101 near Sebastopol Avenue in Santa Rosa by officer O'Brien, who spotted a car matching the all-points description of the stolen car. Blanco was in Sonoma County Jail today awaiting transfer to Humboldt County.

Kusta failed to report for transportation back to San Quentin to appear before a parole board this week. A car was to pick Kusta up between 11 a.m. and noon yesterday.

Nursing Graduate

Johanna Ruth Koehler, daughter of Arthur Koehler of 1945 Novato Boulevard, Novato, will graduate from the Highland School of Nursing in Oakland Saturday.

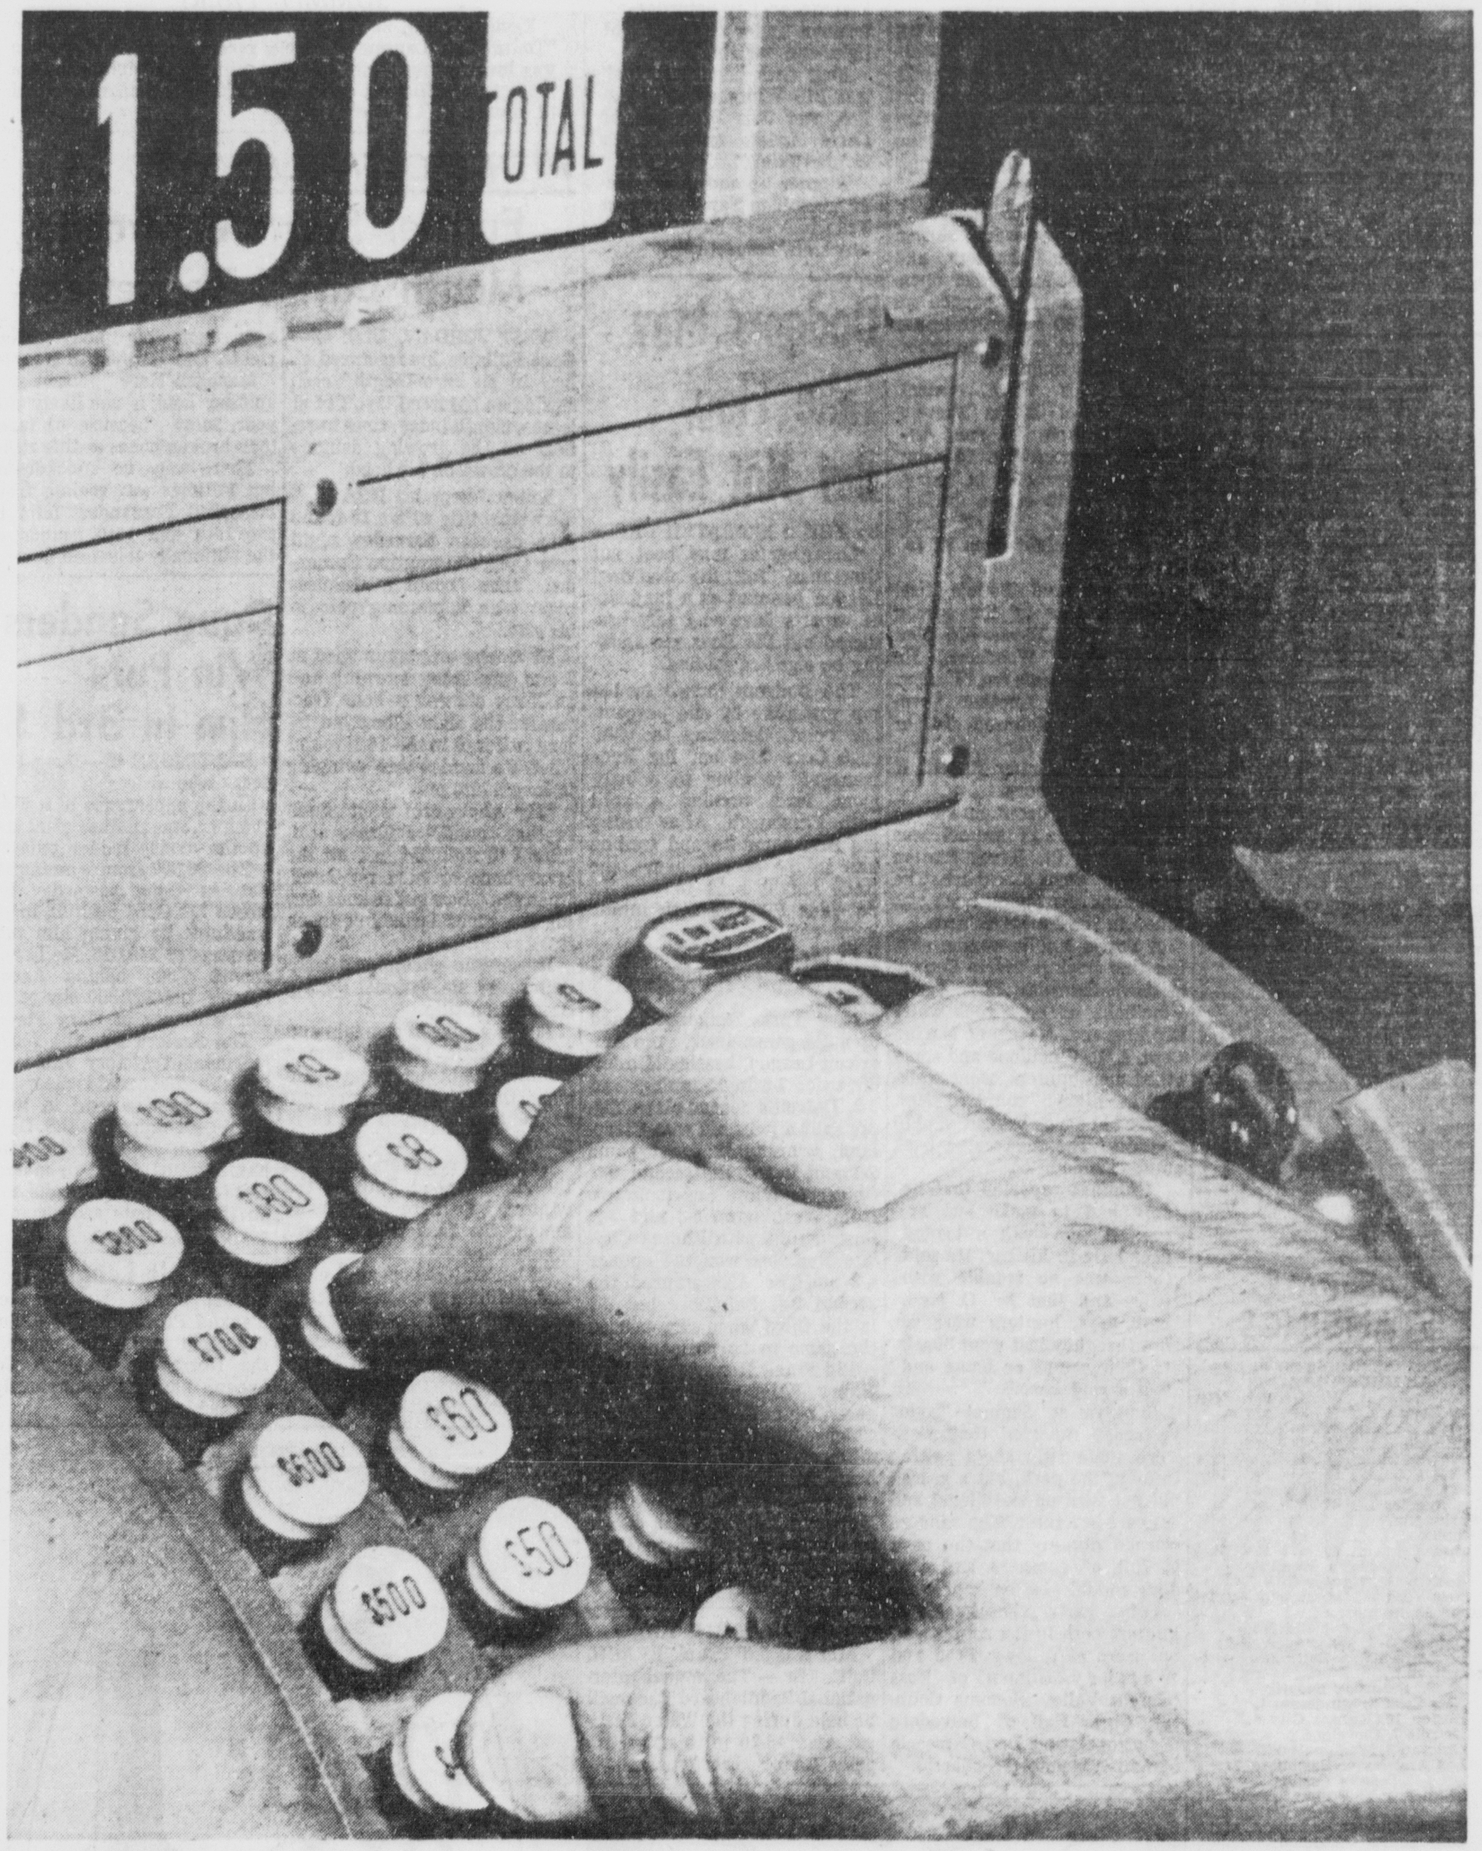

Youth Stabbed At San Quentin

An 18-year-old youth transferred to San Quentin Prison July 27 was stabbed on the left side of his neck Saturday in the prison lower recreation yard.

Garry Del Mastro had been sent to San Quentin from Deuel Vocational Institution at Tracy where he had a long history of disciplinary offenses. He was committed to Deuel Sept. 12, 1960, by the Youth Authority as a delinquent.

Associate Warden Walter Acuff said Del Mastro's wound was half an inch long and not very deep. The inmate was treated at the prison hospital and kept there for observation.

There were no witnesses who admitted seeing the stabbing, and the weapon was not found. Del Mastro said he didn't know why he was stabbed or who did it.

Will Count On 'Big Three' For Pitching, Says Alvin Dark

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—With 49 games left, Manager Alvin Dark now figures on a "big three" pitching staff working every four days in the San Francisco Giants' drive at the top of the National League.

"We've still got a chance," Dark said today, "but we're going to have to do it by using three starting pitchers just as much as their arms can take."

The "big three" are southpaw Mike McCormick 9-10 and righthanders Jack Sanford 6-6 and Juan Marichal 9-7.

The Giants beat the Milwaukee Braves 4-3 yesterday, regaining third place, even though Marichal was rocked for 14 hits in 8⅔ innings. Stu Miller saved Marichal after the Braves put the potential tying and winning runs on base with two out in the ninth.

Little Miller, the Giants' slow ball relief ace, went to a 3-2 count on Frank Bolling and then struck him out with a fast ball.

The Giants are off today and Thursday. Dark plans to use Sanford and McCormick against the Chicago Cubs tomorrow night and Wednesday and come back with Marichal, Sanford and McCormick in the big series with the Cincinnati Reds that begins Friday night.

The Giants did all yesterday's scoring early. A single by leadoff man Joe Amalfitano, a double by Harvey Kuenn and singles by Matty Alou and Willie Mays got them two runs in the first inning. Amalfitano's third inning walk and Alou's fifth homer of the year was the rest of it, making a loser of Carl Willey, 4-6.

Marichal, who entered the game with two straight shutouts, had his no-run string snipped at 21 innings when the Braves scored in the fourth on a double by Hank Aaron and Joe Adcock's single.

Marichal was tagged for at least one hit in every inning. The Braves finally chased him in the ninth after Joe Adcock's leadoff homer—his 22nd— and three singles. That made the score 4-3 and set the stage for Miller.

Ed Mathews, the National League's all-star third baseman, was charged with an error on a third-inning throw—his first error in 49 games.

MARIN HUNTERS

Deer Take Abnormal: Too Hot

Deer were still being brought into frozen food lockers today from the weekend's opening of hunting season, but Marin County game warden Alfred F. Giddings said the hot weather cut the opening's take by about two thirds.

Giddings said the heat Saturday and yesterday slowed both dogs and hunters, and while in past and cooler openings hunters have bagged an average of 60 bucks, this year they only got in the neighborhood of 20 animals.

Robert N. Bonn, owner-operator of Marin Frozen Food Lockers in San Anselmo reported that 10 deer had been brought in today and about 10 others during the weekend. He said they varied in weight from 61 to 110 pounds.

Giddings and Bonn's first recorded deer of the season was shot by 15-year-old Max Chadwick of Woodacre. He dropped the animal near White's Hill. Another teenager, Kervin Johnson, 14, of Lucas Valley, shot his first deer on the Grady Ranch. It was a forked horn.

w2S taoin shrdaoin mfwy o

The largest animal was downed by Pt. Reyes Station resident James Lockhart. The 120-pound, four-point buck was taken in the Pt. Reyes area.

A Forest Knolls woman shot her first buck in Marin County at dawn Saturday. Mrs. Agnes Vincilione sat on a rock while her husband, Merchant Marine Capt. L. B. Vincilione and some other men hunters, went stalking in higher country. Mrs. Vincilione bagged a 110 pounder. The men came back empty handed.

Giddings reported that he only had to make one arrest—a man with a loaded deer rifle in his car. He said there was no trouble with fires, and that by 11 a.m., both days, hunters were so hot that they just went "back to their camps or home and had a cold beer."

Rangers at Samuel Taylor yesterday reported that there were some rifle shots pelting trees in the park, but a search did not turn up the illegal and dangerous hunter. The rangers warned hunters that the park is full of campers and that dogs should also be kept out.

Other early takes by Marin hunters both in the county and out were as follows: Fred and Whitney Gilman of Ross (Knight Valley, Sonoma County); Chris Hall of Belvedere (Calestoga), and Don Carseccia of San Anselmo (Woodacre).

MARINITE FIRST IN REGATTA

Marin yachtsmen took a first and fourth place in the eight-boat Finn Regatta in Richardson Bay Saturday afternoon under conditions of light and variable winds.

First with his "Finnicula" was Bill Whitaker of Sausalito, and Nils Ericksson of Corte Madera sailed fourth in his "Triki."

Runner up and third placer were Tim Sawyer of San Francisco and Ray Drew of Stockton, respectively.

Dodgers May Take Flag, But Not Easily

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Los Angeles may beat out Cincinnati for the National League pennant as a majority of experts have so freely predicted but the Reds are showing no signs of folding.

The Dodgers inched to the top yesterday by one percentage point, defeating the Chicago Cubs 11-4 but the Reds managed to cling to a half-game lead, earning a split with Pittsburgh. After losing the first game 9-4 and trailing late in the second game, the Reds fought back to win 3-2 on Vada Pinson's 10th inning home run.

St. Louis swept a doubleheader from Philadelphia 3-1 and 3-2.

New York Yankees opened up a 2½ games lead in the American League, beating Minnesota twice 7-6 in 15 innings and 3-2. Detroit's second-place Tigers split a twin bill with Cleveland, winning the first game 2-1 and losing the second 9-5. Chicago's White Sox took two from Washington 5-4 and 3-2. Boston split with Kansas City. The Red Sox won the opener 4-2 and the A's captured the second 2-1. Baltimore led 3-1 in the third when rain caused the game to be postponed.

Big Frank Howard and little Maury Wills paced the Dodgers' 12-hit attack against three Chicago pitchers. Howard had a homer, triple and double and drove in four runs. Wills had three hits including the first homer in his three-year career in the majors and scored four times. Johnny Podres won his 14th against three defeats.

Fullmer Starts Enforced Month Layoff To Reflect

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Gene Fullmer, his fractured elbow in an arm-length cast, started an enforced layoff of at least a month today, time to reflect on the growing dangers to the crown on his head.

Fullmer kept his NBA middle weight title with a 15-round split decision Saturday night over Cuba's Florentino Fernandez, then spent a sleepless night with a piercing pain in his arm.

His doctor was summoned at 7 a.m. yesterday morning and an X-ray showed a bone fracture at the right elbow, an injury suffered in the 14th round when Fernandez was swinging to knock him out.

"My whole arm went numb in that round," Fullmer said. "But I thought I'd just hit the crazy bone or hurt my hand. Then the elbow got so sore during the night I couldn't touch it."

It was the champion's sixth defense of his National Boxing Association title.

It was a rugged struggle and in the hectic 14th it seemed Fullmer might not make it. He came through on the strength of points piled up in the early going.

Ten of 12 reporters polled at the ringside had Fullmer the winner, but there were many among the fans who thought otherwise.

Either way it appeared clear that Fullmer at 30 has reached a critical point in his career. Against Fernandez, even before the fracture that ruined his defense, he got hit more often than usual, didn't get the mileage from his body-busting rights, and finished in trouble.

Manager Marv Jenson said another bout is not likely this year, more because of taxes than broken bones or title risks.

There were no knockdowns but Fullmer was reeling from measured Fernandez' lefts in the 14th and 15th rounds of the nationally televised bout.

Doug Sanders' Win Puts Him In 3rd $

BALTIMORE (AP)—Doug Sanders, who drives a golf ball with the appearance of a wood chopper, was another giant step up the money ladder today.

The $5,300 from winning the Eastern Open yesterday bolstered his third position in the standings by giving him total earnings of $49,016. He is only about$ 7,500 behind Arnold Palmer and $11,500 shy of the golf winnings of Gary Player.

The Eastern was the fourth tournament victory this year for the 28-year-old Georgian. He has been second in three events, including the U.S. Open.

He won by a stroke when Ken Venturi failed to make a five-foot putt for a birdie four on the last hole after coming out of a sand trap.

Hamilton, Presidio Tied For 1st In Softball

Hamilton Field and Presidio, with 2-1 records, are tied for first place today after the first seven contests of the 15-game San Anselmo Invitational Softball Tournament, even though both games were upsets.

Junction Inn of Oakland, Petaluma Merchants, and Sohner Tree Service are tied for second with 1-1 marks. Peri's Tavern (0-2) is in last place.

The upsets highlighted yesterday's action with Junction Inn nabbing a 5-3 win over Hamilton and Sohner's notching a 6-5 victory over Presidio in an 11-inning thriller.

Junction Inn and Hamilton were battling in a 1-1 deadlock going into the seventh inning when Dale Willingham pounded a tremendous three-run homer to pace the winning rally by the Oakland nine. Hamilton tallied twice in their half and had the bases loaded before Fred Schott struck out the final batter.

In Sohner's upset victory, Art Donati's clean single to left, his third hit of the game, sent pitcher Jay Leatherwood scampering home with the deciding run in the 11th inning.

The Treemen had scored three times in the first and twice more in the second to take an early 5-1 advantage. Presidio's Ed Johnson then hammered a three-run homer in the fifth to narrow the count to 5-4 and three straight singles in the sixth tied the score and chased Sohner starter Lou Perazzo.

Leatherwood came in to retire the side. The fast-balling righthander retired 11 straight batters in one stretch.

Donati turned in the fielding gem of the game when he made a diving bare-hand stop in left field to hold Jack Ruebel to an eighth-inning double on a drive that looked like a sure game-winning homer.

The tournament will continue this Wednesday at 6:30 when Sohner's battles Peri's at San Anselmo's Memorial Park. Single tilts are scheduled for Thursday and Friday evenings with big triple-headers slated for the week-end.

Seattle Speedboat Turns 106.27 Per

SEATTLE (AP)—This city introduced a new idea in speedboat racing yesterday and doled out $30,000 in prize money, with Ron Musson taking the $10,000 top prize by bringing Miss Bardahl home first in the feature race.

He averaged 106.27 miles per hour for the 45 miles.

Four others ran in a Seattle Trophy Race, and Miss Madison, piloted by 57-year-old Marion Cooper, took the $3,500 top prize.

Hub Whips Tiburon Pelicans

San Anselmo pitcher Fred Thurman whipped the Tiburon Pelicans, his former team, in a three-hitter in semi professional baseball action yesterday.

Thurman stacked up 15 strikeouts and had only one walk recorded. His present club, the Ongaro Plumbers, picked up four of their runs in the first inning and one in the seventh.

Milt Hain was the day's big hitter with a triple that scored a run and two other base hits for another RBI. Ray Oliveria got two singles, and so did Tim Riodan, for the winning club.

The Pelicans had to credit their two runs to College of Marin athlete Ron Blum who drove in one count on a triple in the ninth and also scored on a error.

TOURNAMENT OF CHAMPS

Twin Cities Takes Crown; Beats Orioles In 1-Hitter

The Twin Cities North Bay Lumber Co. team today wears the Marin County Little League 1961 baseball crown after overcoming the Hamilton-Loma Verde Orioles in a thrilling 4 to 2, one hitter.

Saturday's heroes were Twin Cities' pitcher Ken Levy and southpaw Oriole Barry Beringer.

A capacity crowd saw the game's only homer by 10-year-old first baseman Beringer break the hot, humid air over the Air Force Base's right-center field fence, 190 feet out. It was also the losing club's only hit of the blistering afternoon.

Levy's performance was reinforced by his club's superb fielding—one error. The young pitcher was also credited with one of his clubs four runs. In the fifth inning, after getting on with a base hit and being sent to second by Ray Biagini's subsequent hit, Levy stole home.

The champs tallied two runs in the third and two in the fifth stanzas. In that exciting third inning, short stop Parky Stephenson and Bob Del Ponte were on the bags. Biagini banged out a hard double and put the base runners in scoring positions. Both runners took their runs on pass balls at home plate.

Twin Cities' fourth run was a result of a single by David Reed that drove in Biagini.

The Orioles obviously suffered from a Achelles Heel at the catching position. But considering the fact that Stan Shafer was in a championship game and catching for the first time all season, he did a commendable job. The regular catcher, Tony Martin was on vacation.

Beringer's homer in the top of the fourth was hit on a two strike count. The Orioles other run was from the fancy stealing of Jimmy Melton who took full advantage of Jim Rose's fielder's choice in the third inning. The Orioles losing pitcher was Frank Ackerman. Manager was M/Sgt. John McKay and coaching was Leland Beringer.

The Championship club's manager is Jim Reed.

The Giants Have Flipped, Flopped, Fizzled; In Other Words, No Flag

CONNOLLY

"And you can tell that one, BYE, BYE, BABY!"

Russ Hodges, the radio announcer, supplied the words; our S.F. Giants the music.

The story connected with the words and the music; is the 1961 National League pennant race. In so far as the S.F. Giants are concerned, it's all over. They flipped, flopped, fizzled, flunked, completely, just as though they were machinegunned. They are OUT like a light. No chance for a 1961 pennant.

No team with the potential of the Giants ever folded more methodically. They just rolled over on their back like a dead pigeon.

The way they determine "thoroughbreds" in a race, is when the horses meet at the head of the stretch, look each other in the eye and say "let's go" for the roses.

That happened to the Giants in Cincinnati. At the head of the stretch they looked the Reds in the eye and like a fine accordion, folded and laid down.

Nobody can pin point exactly why. And if they make a guess, can't prove it. So your reason for the fold-up is as good as anybody's.

MORE THAN 23 games lost by one run has to mean something more than just a lost ball game. It means the club lacks something. It could be courage, or it could be they just haven't got it. I choose to call it the latter.

I really believe the Giants lacked an infield that could coordinate well enough to win a pennant. I think they lacked pitching; up-to-the-minute catching. I think they only had two big league ball players worthy of the name as regulars, and a couple of pitchers who are entitled to be called big leaguer flingers.

Aside from Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda, the Giants had no standout regulars. Sure enough, Jose Pagan is a comer; so is Joey Amalfitano; so is Jimmy Davenport.

But aside from Mays and Cepeda, the players are not ready.

HARVEY KUEEN like Don Blasingame, did an enfoldo. He'll never get another $40,000 a year paycheck from the Giants.

Ed Bailey, a great catcher with the Cincy Reds, has been just ordinary.

Felipe Alou, heralded as another Willie Mays is a stiff wristed batter who'll never be worth his salt as a batter and "whoinell" cares whether he can throw or run, if he can't hit at least better than .265.

It really hurts to have to give up on a team that looked so promising for half of the season.

THE PRINCIPAL reason for the Giants 1961 flop has to be attributed to a lack of pitching, an inferior infield and a lack of intelligent playing. The Giants, whether you believe it or not, lack know-how. They have power but in the clinches they freeze.

Right now the Giants, individually and collectively are suffering from PAYROLL PANIC. They know they're going to be "cut" in 1962 but do not know how deep the wound is likely to be.

Stu Miller, Orlando Cepeda, maybe Juan Marichal, Joe Pagan and perhaps Joey Amalfitano will get a kick in pay. The others will get a kick in the pants.

ALVIN DARK, as a fisrt year manager, likely will call for a complete shuffle in personnel. If he don't he's liable to be shuffled off to Buffalo himself.

Dark's biggest fault was that he appraised the ball club in the spring, higher than it deserved. He played his hunches right down to the wire and now, will admit, that he overrated the club.

Pitchers like Sam Jones, decidedly past his peak; Jack Sanford, a man with a child-like temper destructive to the team; Billy Loes and Billy O'Dell, don't belong in a team, pennant bent. They are just fill-ins for clubs like the Phillies and Cubs.

If the Giant brass don't know it now, they'd better start doing a bit of scurrying for help between now and the windup.

THE FANS will tell them how well and how happy they are bucking the wind and the traffic for the balance of the year.

Soviet 'Eagle' Is Obedient, Industrious Father Says

Siberian Liked Gliders, Made Model Aircraft

MOSCOW (AP) — "I am an eagle."

That's how Soviet spaceman Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov described himself as he whirled in orbit around the globe.

Son of a retired Siberian school teacher, Titov, 26, is a year younger than his "great friend" Maj. Yuri Gagarin, who made the first space flight.

Titov's picture, flashed on Soviet television, showed him to be a handsome, wavy-haired pilot with lines of humor on an intelligent face.

ADVENTURE STORIES

His father, Stephan Pavolovich Titov, described his son as "obedient and industrious" with an enthusiasm for anything aeronautical since childhood.

"He liked to make things, especially to build model aircraft and to launch gliders," the elder Titov said. "Gherman used to read a lot, and like all boys of his age was keen on adventure stories.

"We wanted him to go to a university, but he decided to become a pilot and his dream came true."

The youthful spaceman was born in the village of Verkhneye Zhilino, in western Siberia.

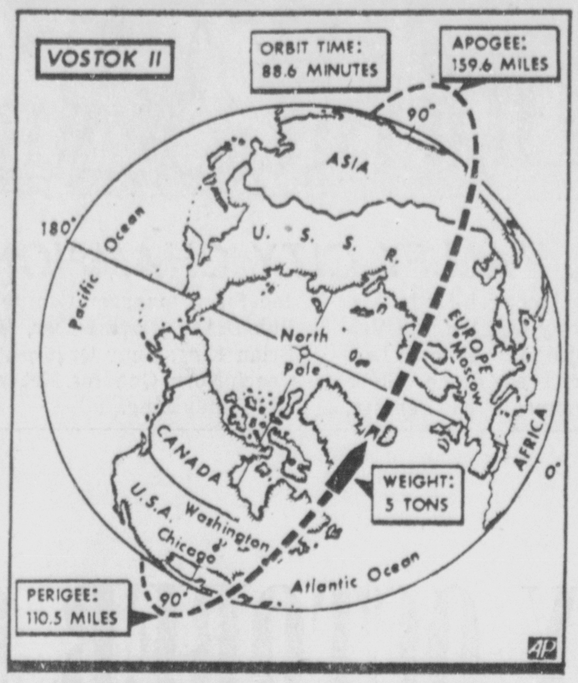

He went to Stalingrad flying school in 1955, won his wings in 1957 with top-flight grades and then signed up for the air force. Friends described him as the athletic type with a fondness for gymnastics and a bicycle champion.

MARRIED MAN

Like Gagarin, Titov is married but the biography released by the Soviet news agency Tass made no mention of his having any children. Gagarin has two.

Both Titov and Gagarin are dedicated Communists. Gagarin is a full-fledged member of the party. Titov joined the Young Communist League at the age of 14 and is a candidate member of the party.

One of Titov's first messages from outer space was to dedicate his flight "to the 22nd congress of our Communist party," which will be held in October.

TITOV APPLAUDED

Space Epic Is Called Step Toward Moon

LONDON (AP)—Some Western scientific sources today saw the Soviet Union's next target as the moon as the world applauded Maj. Gherman Titov's epic space flight.

Kenneth Gatland, vice president of the British Interplanetary Society, said he expected the Russians to land a man on the moon between 1966 and 1967. He added that they may put a dog in a space ship and send it on a reconnaissance flight to the moon.

"What is so interesting about this latest Russian success is that Vostok II (Titov's space ship) had enough aid and food provisions in it for a round-the-moon reconnaissance flight which would last for about five to eight days," Gatland said.

Titov was in orbit a little more than a day.

Congratulations were issued by various governments, including those of Italy, Sweden and The Netherlands in Western Europe.

In Paris, U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said: "I am glad to know that he (Titov) came back alive. This is a fine ending."

Foreign Secretary Lord Home of Britain, also in Paris for the Western foreign ministers' meeting, remarked: "It is a great realization. I am glad I was not up in the vehicle with Titov."

Yuri Cuts Nova Scotia Visit Short

MOSCOW (UPI)—Yuri Gagarin, the world's first spaceman, returned to Moscow from Canada today to join in the reception for his space successor, Gherman Titov.

Gagarin, who made one orbit of the world April 12, cut a day off his visit to Nova Scotia so he could be back in time for Titov's triumphal return to Moscow.

Gagarin, who became a close friend of Titov's during their training for space flights, sent a message to the second cosmonaut yesterday which read in part:

"I embrace you, old chap, and I kiss you . . . see you soon."

Gagarin was expected to be among the Soviet dignitaries who will greet Titov later this week when the new spaceman returns to a reception that is expected to outshine that given Gagarin.

After his homecoming, Titov was expected to begin the round of goodwill visits that have taken most of Gagarin's time since his orbital flight. Gagarin's hasty return today ended a western goodwill trip that took him to Canada, Brazil and Cuba.

Gagarin also has visited Great Britain, Finland and several eastern European nations since his space trip.

COMPARISON OF SOVIET, U.S. IN SPACE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Here is a capsule comparison of U.S. and Soviet space accomplishments:

Satellites and probes to date: U.S. 46, Russia 15.

Still in earth orbit: U.S. 27, Russia 2.

In solar orbit: U.S. 2, Russia 2.

Still transmitting: U.S. 11 (not counting Midas III, the status of which is classified secret), Russia none.

Rocket hit on moon—Russia -, U.S. none.

Men launched into orbit: Russia 2, U.S. none.

Men daunched into suborbital flight: U.S. 2, Russia none.

Ant colonies keep rose aphids as if they were cows, apparently to enjoy the nutritious honeydew they excrete.

U.S. Hopes For Orbit By January

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, abashed though it may be at the Soviet Union's newest manned satellite triumph, is moving ahead with a program that could place a Mercury astronaut in orbit by next December or January.

The NASA plans to attempt within a month to launch an unmanned Mercury spacecraft into orbit, and then bring it back to earth again.

Officials said the Mercury program—which has sent astronauts Alan Shepard and Virgil Grissom on 15-minute suborbital rocket flights—is moving forward as rapidly as possible.

George M. Low, chief of NASA's manned flight program, said yesterday the Soviet feat had been anticipated by U.S. space officials, but probably could not be duplicated by this country for "quite some time."

The attempt expected this month to orbit an unmanned Mercury capsule would employ an Atlas rocket more than four times as powerful as the Redstone used in the Shepard and Grissom flights.

If the craft is launched successfully and recovered after one or more orbits, the next Mercury-Atlas shot—according to present plants—would have a chimpanzee aboard.

Only after the effects on the animal have been observed does NASA plan to risk a human life. The manned orbital flight is still on the agency's calendar for late this year, but officials privately have been dubious that it could be achieved before early 1962.

U.S.-Russ Air Route Pact Near

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department today announced "basic" U.S.-Soviet agreement has been reached on setting up an air route between the two countries.

A final agreement for commercial air flights to link New York and Moscow should be signed shortly, the department said.

Talks have been underway here since July 18 on establishing a route which would be the first direct passenger air line service between the two nations.

Travelers going from one country to the other now have to transfer at in-between points.

U.S. official said a number of technical details still must be worked out before final agreement is reached.

JFK, Adlai Appeal For Peace Action

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—President John F. Kennedy and U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson answered Russia's newest manned orbital flight with an appeal to the Soviets for international action to prevent the arms race from spreading to outer space.

Stevenson told a news conference that Russian contributions to the conquest of outer space commanded admiration and that Gherman Titov's flight was another step forward.

But, he said, the event "sharpens the need for some international action to regulate the use of outer space for peaceful purposes and to keep the arms race from spreading to that field." He voiced hope that Russia would delay no longer in cooperating for this purpose.

Cosmonaut's Name Is A Popular One

COSTMONAUT 118-2 p-10 ....

MOSCOW (UPI)—Maj. Gherman Stepanovich Titov's first name is popular in the Soviet Union's farm regions.

"Gherman," Russian experts say, is the Soviet equivalent of the German "Herman" although it does not have a Germanic derivation.

The Russian alphabet has no H and a literal spelling of Titov's first name would be "German."

MACY'S SAN RAFAEL, FOURTH AND COURT, GLENWOOD 6-3333;
OPEN MONDAY AND FRIDAY 9:30 TO 9; OTHER DAYS 9:30 TO 5:30

DRAMATIC MOMENT in "Pirates of Penzance" comes during rehearsal by Mill Valley youngsters, as Fred (Steven Bajor), left, is about to leave Mabel (Sandy Heer) to go back to the pirates. Center is Patrick Deu Pree as a pirate, with Janey Clark as Ruth, seated, center, and Stephen Schwartz as Major General Stanley and Ernie Bergman as the pirate king. Performances will be Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m.

'Pirates' To Play In Mill Valley

Mill Valley children under the direction of Irene Pritzker will present performances of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance," on Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. in Park School auditorium. The play has been double cast to enable more children to participate.

When the pirates have a battle royal with the police, proclaiming that "a policeman's lot is not a happy one," the police will be referred to—in honor for former chief James P. McGowan—as "ex-chief McGowan's retired routers."

Thursday night's cast will be: Major-General, Steve Schwartz; Mabel, Monica Lehrer; Fred, Dan Allis; pirate king, Pete Schiller; chief of police, Dina Goodman; first lieutenant, Christine Seifert; Kate, Debra Gunsky; Eleanor, Patrice Thompson; Betsy, Kathy Stott; and Edith, Sidney Fish.

Friday night's cast will be: Major-General, Steve Schwartz; Mabel, Sandy Herr; Fred, Steve Bajor; pirate king, Ernie Bergman; chief of police, Liz Miller; first lieutenant, Pat Dupree; Kate, Jerry Buckly; Eleanor, Kathy Lewis; Betsy, Chris Klyce; and Edith, Mimi Champlin.

An authentic atmosphere has been created in the set design by Sally Champlin depicting a pirate camp with the good ship Jolly Roger in the background. Sally has also designed the light plot, which will be operated by electrician Bill Champlin.

Steve Taylor is the stage manager and Allison Hood the prompter. Original costumes have been created by each member of the cast. To round out this all-children production there is Brian Steadman, the accompanist, a high school student from Corte Madera.

During intermission there will be olio entertainment, including "Steam Heat," a selection from "Pajama Game," staged by Sally Champlin, Steve Taylor and Bill Champlin. And a children's recorder group under the direction of Leo Christiansen will perform.

St. Sebastian Club Plans Splash Party And Card Sessions

"Come on in—the water's fine." This is how St. Sebastian's Women's Club is announcing its fourth annual Splash Party to be held Aug. 17 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Members and guests will be welcomed at private pools offered by Messrs. Monte Ambinder, Edmond Cassou, William Martin, William Murray, Andrew Pansini, Alfred Ruggiero, Peter Sarocka, Donald Spaan, David Sullivan, Robert Wilhelm, J. W. Zimmerman and Dr. Emil Torre.

Refreshments will be served at each home, and qualified life guards will be in attendance.

By popular demand, the pool of Dr. Torre in Kentfield will again be a "Stag Pool" for women who do not have children and wish to enjoy an afternoon of swimming and cards in the lovely garden setting.

Acting as hostesses at the various pools will be Mesdames Fred Adams, Parker Archer, Chester Bergeron, William Cuzens, Robert De Saussure, Frank Fazio, Francis Fogarty, Peter Giorgi, Harry del Grande, Kenneth Larkins, Eugene Lombardi, John McGraw, Jack McManus, Bart Mullaney, Nello Ragghianti, Mel Ricardi, H. J. Schroeder, Charles Schroth, Peter Smith, Hubert Trembley and Joseph Truman.

Mrs. William Garry and Mrs. Gerard Ehler, co-chairmen for the party, have named as their committee heads the following club members: Mesdames Harry del Grande and D. J. McGonigle, reservations; Eugene Maffei, food; Alfred Ruggiero, hostesses; and Roger Yore, life guards.

Tibetan Orphan Is Finding American Life Much Happier

By LAWRENCE J. MORRONE

CHICAGO (UPI) — Happiness is more than just a new word to Deeju Cooper. It's getting to be a way of life.

As far as the 14-year-old orphan girl from Tibet is concerned, that happy feeling comes from television sets, bubble gum, peanut machines, swimming pools, movies and people being nice to her.

Before her introduction to American family life by Harry Cooper, his wife, Frances, and their two children, Deeju's home was in a bleak Tibetan refugee self-help center in India.

Deeju had been in the camp since escaping from Tibet into India in 1959. Her parents died when she was four.

Cooper decided to adopt Deeju when he met her while taking pictures of the refugee camp for the organization CARE.

CATCHING ON

"She's only been with us a month," said Cooper, a public relations executive for a steel firm. "But she's catching on fast. One word she picked up fast was 'happy' and she uses it a lot.

"It's a far cry from the one-meal a day (rice with gravy) refugee camp, but she's taking it in her stride."

So far Deeju, who was a lonely, barefooted girl at the camp, has taken her first elevator ride, stepped hesitantly onto an escalator, twisted the dial of her first TV set, and selected a pair of American shoes.

She arrived in Olympia Fields on her birthday. The kids of the suburb gave her presents and honored their new neighbor with a parade.

"Though her English is coming slowly," Cooper said, "she understands what we say. As she plays with the children and watches TV her English will get better."

Cooper said Deeju has learned at least two things about her new country. "You don't get many peanuts for a nickel out of a vending machine and it isn't polite to stretch your bubble gum with your fingers.

"She'll start school in the fall," said Cooper, who will officially adopt Deeju in six months. He said Deeju sees only one drawback to American life—swimming suits.

USED TO ROBES

"She's used to wearing robes in her country and the idea of the swim suit was a little too much for her," Cooper said. "But the kids in the neighborhood fixed that. They put on a bathing beauty contest on our front lawn and before long Deeju was in the suit and off to the pool."

She told her father-to-be that it reminded her of the Miss Universe contest she had seen on television.

Cooper isn't sure who is gaining more—Deeju or the Coopers.

"She's taught us that we take an awful lot for granted," Cooper said. "She's making us remember that this is a great country.

"She doesn't seem lonesome and there hasn't been a sad expression on her face since she arrived."

Diane Pirtz Is Wed To Herbert G. Reinl

In afternoon nuptials Sunday at St. Patrick's Church in Larkspur Diane Pirtz exchanged vows with Herbert Graham Reinl of Sacramento.

The Rev. John Cunningham officiated at the double ring ceremony, for which the bride was given in marriage by her father, Joseph Pirtz Jr. of Larkspur. She wore a floor length gown of white silk organza and lace with princess styling.

Maid of honor was Patricia Schoenfeld of Eureka and bridesmaids were Ruth Smith of San Francisco, Mary Ellen Reinl of Sacramento and Penelope Kilian of Larkspur, all gowned in pink silk organza.

Richard Waugh of Mills was best man and ushering guests were William Back of Grand Oaks, Robert Van Gutman of Larkspur and John Sharrah of Davis.

After the wedding a reception was given at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. The couple then left on a trip to Carmel and will be at home in Davis.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pirtz, was graduated in June from the University of California, where she was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. She will be a graduate student at UC at Davis. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Tenby of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pirtz of Grass Valley. Mrs. Van Gutman is her sister.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reinl of Sacramento. He was graduated from Sacramento State College in June and is employed by the State of California as an engineer. He is the brother of Mary Ellen Reinl and Mrs. William Back.

Paper Dresses Last One Match On Tennis Court

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) —The newest thing in tennis clothes is the paper dress.

Wimbledon had not seen such a stir about sports apparel since "gorgeous Gussie" Moran took center court by storm in 1949 with her lace panties.

New, the latest fashion are paper outfits which also break the all-white tradition at this famed tennis capital. The paper dresses are trimmed with colored ribbons. Designer is Teddy Tinling, who has designed for international tennis stars since the days of "gorgeous Gussie."

He was perturbed when asked if the paper dresses could take the heavy strain of championship play.

"This has come up before," he snapped. "We guarantee them for one match. The chances are they will stand for four or five."

So far, no paper dress has come to pieces on the courts.

Mayor To Be Speaker

John F. McInnis, mayor of San Rafael, will be the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Marin County Legal Secretaries Assn. Wednesday at The Chateau. His topic will be "San Rafael and Bay Area Development Problems." Dinner will be at 6:30 p.m., preceded by the social hour at 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. Edmond Gross Reports On Conclave

Mrs. Edmond Gross reviewed for a group of friends in her Mill Valley home Tuesday the proceedings at the four-day conference she attended at Stanford University last week.

"Some 900 to 1,000 people were invited to attend the conference," she said, "To discuss education as an instrument of national goals, based on results growing out of the President's Commission on National Goals appointed by former President Eisenhower.

A member of the Mill Valley School Board of Trustees and president of the Mill Valley P-TA Council, Mrs. Gross, together with Park School Superintendent Glen Skelton, represented the Mill Valley School District.

Other Marin educators attending were Marin County Supt. of Schools Virgil Hollis, Robert Prather and Donald Kreps of the Tamalpais Union High School District, Sausalito Supt. of Schools Marcus F. Davis and Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary education in San Rafael.

Mrs. Gross reported that she was particularly impressed with the way in which the educators though saying they felt they had done a good job, were able to look at themselves objectively and face the fact that they could have done a better one.

Among points made that impressed her were (1) That school boards and P-TA's are going to have a tremendous job in interpreting schools to the public (2) That, as one speaker put it, "No man or woman can afford not to do whatever is necessary to make this democracy work (3) That people as individuals have the responsibility to carry out the aims of the United Nations (4) And that is probably going to be easier to get funds to send a man to the moon than children into classrooms.

Rush Deadline Told

Susan Hoefer of Belvedere, College Panhellenic Board vice president and rush chairman at the University of California, has announced that rush registration deadline at the university is Friday. Registration is made at the College Panhellenic Office, campus. The rush period is Aug. 28 to Sept. 7. Pre-sents is Sept. 16, she said. Information is available from 201 Sproul Hall, UC, Berkeley.

More Women Buy Life Insurance Than Ever Before

During the past decade life insurance protection on women almost doubled, reflecting an awareness that wives and mothers have an economic value to their families. It also indicates that the nation's work force has a greater percentage of women than ever before.

Though men still hold a major share of all life insurance policies, at the end of 1960 American women held 80 billion dollars or 15 per cent of life insurance.

Families as a whole averaged $12,800 of insurance each, a new high in financial protection, the Institute of Life Insurance has announced.

GOLD GOES EARLY AMERICAN

The colorful look has been introduced in the newest version of Early American furniture, as witnessed in these maple pieces where rings of gold, gold leaves and trim accent the legs of the captain's table. and enhance the backs of chairs and hutch. Black backs and legs are shown on these chairs and harvest bench and on the table and sides and shelves of hutch, contrasting with the warm maple finish for a new look. Other pieces come with white, green and red on maple, as well as the black.

HOME DECORATION

Wall Pigment Lets Wood Grain Show

You are remodeling a room or rooms. The remodeled rooms will be paneled with wood. And the paneling in the remodeled rooms will have to be finished.

Should the paneling be painted, stained or lacquered?

The problem is one of too many possibilities rather than too few.

And in addition to the already-mentioned finishes, a new possibility has hit the color-conscious decorating scene.

The Western Pine Assn. has developed a complete range of colors for paneling in any room and which are applied by a process called pigmenting.

The theory behind the pigmenting process is the thought that color, in keeping with the total decorating scheme, should be possible without at the same time obscuring the handsome grain of the wood.

Accordingly, standard shades of oil-base paint or mixtures of standard shades—available at most paint dealers—combined with mineral thinners, are brushed onto the paneling liberally and then rubbed off with a soft cloth.

Thanks to pigmenting, paneling can run the color gamut from deep blue-green to pale gold. It may then be used for contrast or to compliment other materials such as brick or stone in living or family rooms. It can highlight the effect of colored fixtures and appliances in bathrooms and kitchens.

And as a result of the brush-on-wipe-off method of application, the fact that the paneling is made of handsomely textured wood is not lost beneath layers of flat paint.

The upkeep on pigmented paneling is simple and the finish long-lasting if a durable, glossy finish coat is applied. The finish coat is composed of a lacquer sealer and a minimum of two coats of clear varnish or shellac.

Carefree Bachelor? No Sir, Sports Car Man Is Married

NEW YORK (UPI)—What kind of man drives one of those flashy foreign sports cars? Some carefree young bachelor out to impress the neighborhood girls, you would probably think.

Not so, says a survey released yesterday by the British Automobile Manufacturers Association.

First of all, he is married. More than 65 per cent of the sports car owners questioned are, the survey reports.

And if he is the average owner, he is 34 years old, he makes $11,500 a year, he attended college and he owns his first sports car.

Forty-three per cent bought their high-powered little autos because they are fun to drive, the survey said. About 21 per cent liked the appearance and styling, while 20 per cent said economy to operate was their major consideration.

But, 63 per cent are two-car families, the survey said, the sports car being a stylish, economical second car.

Most of these sun-tanned wind-blown drivers are happy. 61 per cent say they would buy another sports car as a replacement for the one they have. Another 24 percent say they would buy one as an additional car.

But there were those who are sorry. Almost 11 per cent said they would not buy another sports car either as a replacement or as an additional car. Their main complaints were "limited use, impractical, not built to last and complicated."

The survey also disclosed that 33 per cent had traveled in Europe during the past five years and 13 per cent bought their cars overseas.

Hay Balers Give Party As Surprise

At a gathering the Hay Balers Square Dance Club surprised Mr. and Mrs. John Hegarty at their home with a pot-luck dinner and stork shower. Mr. and Mrs. Duane Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Brawdy, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Walker were chairmen. Fifteen couples played games, pitched horseshoes, and rounded out the evening with square and ballroom dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Castle are the new presidents. Board members are Fred Daley, chairman, Mark Walker, Lou Brawdy, Lorin Downing and Mrs. Gary Schulz.

Starting Aug. 30 a beginners class will begin, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Maternity Clothes Restyled As Sensational Swim Outfit

By EUNICE FARMER

"Just thought your readers would like to know how I salvaged a maternity top of white pique. I made an embroidered cotton swimming suit of white polished cotton with blue flowers. With scraps left over, I made a collar and cuffs on my white maternity jacket.

"This coordinated the swim ensemble and it has been a real sensation. What a feeling of satisfaction, to make something out of nothing." Mrs. Bonnie B.

"I have trouble with bias bindings on sleeveless and collarless dresses and blouses. They never seem to fit just right, what do I do wrong?" Mrs. G. A.

Dear Mrs. A. A.:

In a few brief words, the most helpful hint I can give you is this:

When applying bias to an outer curve, you must ease it on so it won't pull too tight.

When applying bias to an inner curve, you must stretch the bias so as to avoid excess.

"When I sew with long or stay stitching, what causes the material to pucker up?" Mrs. A. L. G.

Dear Mrs. A. L. G.:

In the first place, stay-stitching should be done with the average length machine stitch, about 10 to 12 stitches per inch. It is natural that the fabric will pull up a little more when stitching on a single layer than a double layer. Perhaps you need the tension adjusted on your machine.

"I have trouble with my dresses tearing across under the arms in both front and back where the little cap sleeves are cut in one with the waist. Do you have a solution for this? I enjoy your sewing helps so much, it's the first thing I look for in the paper." Mrs. N. R.

Dear Mrs. N.R.:

This type of dress will usually tear out unless it is reinforced or has a gusset. If you take these extra precautions, you should have fairly good luck.

1. Stitch the seam-line at the underarm curve twice.

2. Clip the curved area straight in to the stitching line. These clips should be about ½-inch apart at the most.

3. Press this part of your seam open on the edge of your board. If clipped properly, this seam should lay flat.

4. Now baste a strip of hem tape over the clipped seam for about 3 inches at the curved area.

5. From the right side of your garment, machine stitch about ⅛-inch from each side of the seamline.

If you would like to have my new leaflet of instructions for making spaghetti straps and rope belts, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 4 to Eunice Farmer, in care of the Independent-Journal Women's Dept., San Rafael.

Bedroom Furniture Features Reading

Beautiful dreaming will become widespread in the near future if the beauty of the new beds on display in Los Angeles is an indication. The new beds are practical, too.

A walnut headboard designed by John Keal features a decorative wedge to facilitate reading in bed. This wedge, which is upholstered to order, in any fabric, lifts up to open a pillow storage area. Incorparated into the sides are a pair of night tables, complete with shelves and drawers, and even electric plugs. One cord, fitted to the headboard, serves the entire area, eliminating any unsightly octopus effect under the bed.

Richard Thompson designed a walnut headboard that is upholstered. It is bordered with an unusual frame with gilded corners. Available in four sizes (king, queen, double, or twin), the headboard is hinged to lock in a reclining position.

Newlyweds Are Residing In Petaluma

Now at home in Petaluma are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peter Taverna, who were married recently at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. For the morning nuptials the bride, Mary Louise Bloom, was escorted to the altar by her father, Louis Bloom of Olema.

For the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Richard Barrow, she donned a full length white gown of lace over satin. Her sister Ardelle was maid of honor, wearing peony pink nylon organza over taffeta with wide matching sash.

Carol Giacomini and Arlene Rodoni, the bride's cousin, were bridesmaids and the junior bridesmaid was the bride's youngest sister, Barbara Bloom. All wore peony pink dresses. Kathy Lawrence was the flower girl, wearing white nylon and carrying baby roses. Danny Figone, the bridegroom's cousin, served as ring bearer.

Ronald Taverna was the best man for his brother, while ushering guests to seats were Peter Valconesi and Bob Theis. Ken Taverna was a junior usher for his brother's wedding.

After the ceremony guests gathered for the reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bianchi.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bloom, was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and Santa Rosa Junior College School of Nursing, and she is a nurse at Memorial Hospital in Santa Rosa. She is the granddaughter of Mary Carter of Point Reyes, who attended the nuptials, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clorindo Bloom.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Taverna and is with the National Guard. He is a Petaluma High School graduate and is employed by Pioneer Shell Company.

His grandparents are Mrs. Victoria Taverna and Mrs. Victoria Coletti, who also attended the ceremony.

If Your Children Aren't Good Readers, See That They Learn

Schools have used several different methods to teach reading. Do your children read well? I hope so.

Years ago teachers followed the alphabet method. Children started with their ABC's. Then they formed syllables, and drilled on them. Next they made words, and finally, sentences. They spent hours reading aloud. It was a slow process. It produced slow readers. A large percentage of the kids failed, and dropped from school.

Next came the phonetic method. Were you taught that way as I was? Remember our phonics cards? First we learned syllables. Then we put them into words. Finally we came to sentences. A large percentage of our classmates failed and quit school.

A few years ago things were reversed. Nowadays schools start with whole sentences, or even paragraphs. Children do a lot of fast, silent reading. They read aloud rarely. Meanings are stressed at first, rather than words. Syllables aren't taught until late in the first grade. The alphabet usually comes in third or fourth grade.

The results? Better readers, and fewer failures. There still are some who don't learn. However, now they do not drop out of school. They stay in their classes. They haunt the teachers in every grade.

The most recent step in reading instruction has been to install "remedial reading classes" for those who are behind. Special teachers are hired. Special books and equipment are provided. Each child works at his own pace. Eventually nearly all of them learn. Are there some remedial reading classes at your school? You might check and see.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "An elderly radio commentator says schools should go back to the McGuffey Readers and teach reading by the methods given in them. He says 100 per cent of the children would learn successfully then. Is he right?" J.D.

(A) No. The percentage of failure would rise to a new high for this century.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS

New Tamelpa Parlor Head Taught Members To Sew

A native daughter of Mill Valley as well as of California is Mrs. Francis Doyle, who will be installed president of Mill Valley's Tamelpa Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West tomorrow evening at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse.

A member of Tamelpa Parlor for 22 years, Mrs. Doyle played the drum and bugle in the chapter's famous drum corps that won first place many years in state competitions, and she has held all of the offices in the Mill Valley unit.

Josephine, or "Pini," as she is called by everyone, is especially appreciated for having taught many members to sew with confidence to the point that they have staged two "Sew-it-yourself" fashion shows that are to become annual events.

She herself credits an extension course given by the University of California in Mill Valley for her high degree of sewing skill.

"It's great fun," she said, "though it's hard at first for some to take the criticisms they get when they model their own creations before others in the sewing group. But finally they get so that they joke about such things as not knowing they had so many bulges in the wrong places."

Mrs. Doyle has lived all of her life in Mill Valley and is a graduate of Tamalpais High School and Heald's Business College in San Francisco. She worked as a secretary in a San Francisco bank before, and at Mariniship during World War II.

Her husband is a lithographer employed by a San Francisco printing company, and they have a 12-year-old son, Joseph Paul—better known as Joey—who attends Our Lady of Mount Carmel School.

She is active in the parent-teacher group of the school, having held the position of secretary and been chairman of various committees.

Needless to say, Mrs. Doyle's favorite hobby is sewing, and she belongs to another sewing group and a rug braiding group, who members meet at each other's homes. In their spare time the family likes to swim and water ski.

Mrs. Doyle is especially interested in the Native Daughters' Children's Foundation project, which helps children that are not welfare cases but whose parents cannot afford such things as having their teeth straightened.

"We have helped families in Mill Valley and in the county with this kind of thing and other problems that could cause personality defects," she said.

Mrs. Doyle's brothers and sisters all live in Marin, except her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Wilson of Cloverdale. The other sisters are Mesdames Germain Zucchini and Malcolm Piper of Mill Valley, and her brothers are Louis Brunini of Mill Valley and Anthony Brunini of San Rafael.

Installed with Mrs. Doyle will be Mesdames Mary Silva, first vice president; Lloyd Canham, second vice president; James Stinchcomb, third vice president; Fred Brusati, recording secretary; Thomas McKeon, financial secretary; Malcolm Piper, treasurer; Diane Spayd, marshal; Dale Tupper, inside sentinel; Fred Smith, outside sentinel; Forest Levens, organist; George Martensen, Anthony Vargo and Miss Linda Meierdierks, trustees; Mrs. John Guth, junior past president; and Miss Betty Crawley, senior past president.

The 8:30 p. m. installation ceremony is open to the public.

Bruno Albini Wed In Petaluma Rite

St. Vincent's Church in Petaluma was the setting for the wedding of Patricia Ann Rose and Bruno N. Albini, who exchanged vows at evening double ring ceremonies.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Albert I. Rose of Petaluma. She chose a white gown of Chantilly lace ending in a train.

Beverly Delloca of Petaluma was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Pat Albini of Novato, Martha Flood of Pittsburg, Judy Rose and Betty Ricioli of Petaluma, all attired in lavender organza dresses.

Rene Roberti of Petaluma was the flower girl.

Tony Albini of Novato was the best man for his brother, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Albini of Petaluma. Ushering guests were Bob Colin of Daly City, Carlo Patocchi, Alan Milner and Jessie Amaral, all of Petaluma. Billy Milner was the ring bearer.

The bride is a graduate of Petaluma High School and is employed by the Bank of America in Petaluma.

Her husband also is a Petaluma High School graduate and he is a partner in the California Bakery in San Rafael. He is a member of Nicasio Parlor 183, Native Sons of the Golden West.

Newlyweds Home In San Rafael

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Truchard are living in San Rafael following their recent wedding at St. Christopher's Church in San Jose. The bride, who is the former Lilian Monica Killeen, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Killeen of Dublin, Ireland.

Mr. Truchard is the son of Mrs. Edmar Truchard of Oakland and the late Mr. Truchard. He is district manager of the Chevrolet Motor Division of General Motors Corp.

Sweet And Lovely

Try blending a tablespoon of red currant jelly, green mint jelly or raspberry jelly into creamy salad dressing. This is good for a salad that requires a touch of sweetness and color.

You Can't Live On Salad And Tea All Summer Long

If you're basking in the illusion that you can live on salads and iced tea for the next couple of months, you may be in for a rude awakening. Dr. Norman Jolliffe, nutrition authority and director of the Bureau of Nutrition for New York City, warns that inadequate diet can make your health and beauty only skin deep.

This does not mean you can't cut down on calories, Dr. Jolliffe points out. But full daily requirements for proteins, vitamins and other essential nutrients are a must. The only vitamin you can get from exposure to the sun is vitamin D.

Dr. Jolliffe has these tips on good summer fare:

Cold cuts can be just as high in protein as a roast of beef. Enjoy these as good protein sources, along with cottage cheese and skim milk for a meal that's "light" but good for you.

Stay on a regular meal schedule. Even though hot weather often dulls the appetite, your body needs a consistent fuel supply.

Eating itself generates some body heat. Have your biggest meal in the evening when temperatures are lower.

Don't ignore those refreshing salads and leafy green vegetables that make summer cooking such a joy; just be sure you balance them with the other nutrients you need.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Aug. 7, the 219th day of the year with 146 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase.

The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1782, George Washington established the Order of The Purple Heart, a decoration for military merit.

In 1789, Congress created the United States War Department.

In 1934, the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington ruled against the government's attempt to confiscate and ban all copies of James Joyce's controversial book "Ulysses."

In 1942, the U.S. Marines launched America's first offensive battle of World War II as they landed on Guadalcanal in the Solomon Islands.

A though for today: James Joyce said: "A man of genius makes no mistakes. His errors are volitional and are the portals of discovery."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Solve King, Jack Headache In Best Play Once For All

One of the commonest problems in bridge is what to do when the opponents hold the king and jack of a key suit. It pays to work out the best play once and for all so that you don't have to go into an agonized trance at the table whenever you meet the problem.

South	West	North	East
1 NT	Pass	3 NT	All Pass

Opening lead — ♣ J

South won the opening lead with the ace of clubs, led a diamond to the ace and returned a diamond. East played low, and South had to choose between the queen and ten of diamonds.

This situation is not always a problem against weak opponents. East may play in such a way as to reveal what he has in diamonds. Strong opponents will avoid tell-tale hesitations.

CONSIDER ALL: You can work out the best percentage play by considering all cases. You have already seen three small diamonds, and the only missing cards are the king, jack and one small card.

If West has both the king and jack, no play will help you.

If West has K-x or J-x, you must guess whether to play the queen or ten. The odds are even, so that in the long run you will tend to break even whether you play the queen, the ten, or sometimes one and sometimes the other.

If West has the unguarded jack left in his hand, you gain by playing the queen.

In all other cases you gain by playing the ten. These include the unguarded king in the West hand, the missing small card in the West hand, and the case of no diamonds at all in the West hand.

It's easy to see that the ten is the percentage play.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer, at your left, bids one club. Your partner overcalls with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ Q 10 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts. Game is very unlikely, but the raise costs you nothing and may interfere with the bidding of the other side.

Somaset Tribe Names Officers

A degree team of past sachems from Somaset tribe of Vallejo installed officers of Tamal Tribe 288, Improved Order of Redmen, in a Raising of the Chiefs ceremony recently.

Installed were George W. Hall Jr., prophet; S. W. (Bud) Eason, sachem; Chet Iverson Sr., sagamore; James Hutchinson Jr., sagamore; George Hall Sr., chief of records; Fred W. Kuhlken, chief of wampum; Albert Graham, keeper of wampum; Reno Bosco, Charles Guidici and E. Kurt Kalemba, trustees.

Walter Mazza was appointed guard of the forest; Kurt Kalemba, guard of the wigwam; Reno Bosco, first sanap; Earl Snowden, first warrior, and Ray Greenberg, second warrior.

'Foiled' Funds Going To People-To-People

Proceeds from the Sausalito Little Theater's summer melodrama "Foiled: Or a Struggle For Life And Liberty," on Aug. 18, will be given to the Sausalito people-to-people program, according to program chairman Charles Merrill.

The play, which will open at 9 p.m., will be preceded by refreshments at the theater at 745 Bridgeway.

Held To Answer In Molest Case

Apartment house owner Leland Rose, 53, of 52 Millard Road, Larkspur, faces arraignment in Marin Superior Court on a charge of child molesting following a closed hearing before Judge Leonard A. Thomas in Municipal Court.

Rose was held to answer after a 6-year-old girl was questioned in court Friday. Rose was arrested June 22, Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark reported.

He was represented in court by attorney William O. Weisich. Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety is prosecuting the case. Date for his arraignment in Superior Court has not been set. He is free in $1,575 bail.

FUN RIDES AHEAD FOR I-J CARRIERS

More than 100 Independent-Journal newspaperboys are expected to qualify for the I-J's annual excursion to Santa Cruz on Aug. 27. The youthful businessmen earn the trip by securing new customers. A chartered bus will take them to the famed resort and they will receive a string of tickets to boardwalk concessions — including the "Cave Train" to "Lost World," shown above, which is one of the new attractions recently added at the long-popular coast resort.

RODEO TROPHY — Jim Palm, manager of Palm Saddle Shop in Petaluma, is working on trophy saddle to be presented to winning cowboy of rodeo at Sonoma-Marin Fair which opens Thursday in the "egg capital."

Two-County District Fair Starts Thursday

Fair fans will head for Petaluma Thursday through Sunday for the 25th annual Sonoma-Marin District Fair.

Events will include exhibits of livestock, industrial, commercial and farm products by Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members; a midway with a variety of rides and games; a physical fitness program for the youngsters, star attractions at the outdoor theater; a rodeo Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.; a junior horse show at 1 p.m. Saturday.

A hunters safety course will be given next Thursday and Friday mornings at 9 to youngsters age 12-16. Anyone under 16 must pass this course before a hunting license can be obtained.

Twelve floral clubs of Sonoma and Marin will present "A Century of Gardening" in the outdoor garden area, complete with waterfall, fountains and ponds. Artists and amateur photographers will have an exhibit in the arts and crafts building.

The Sonoma County Queen Contest pageant will highlight opening day at 8 p.m. Kiddies Day will be observed Aug. 11 and Family Day Aug. 13.

Experienced or inexperienced drivers may test their skills at four official testing machines of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Another event will be an egg laying contest in the poultry building.

The fair board includes William Gnoss of Novato, A. J. Bianchi of Point Reyes Station, Adolph L. Nieri of Novato and Herbert H. Angress of Marshall.

Break For Californians In Paying State Taxes

Some Caifornians will get a break when paying state income taxes next year, as a result of legislation making the state law conform with the federal law.

According to state controller Allan Cranston, the state now allows working mothers to deduct up to $600 annually for care of children under 12. Another change permits a maxiumum $12 credit to qualified public employees and other qualified retired persons more than 65 who are receiving retirement income.

Hub Couple To Fete 50 Married Years

A San Anselmo man who likes to give shiny pennies to children will have a golden celebration this month and a diamond one in November.

Baldo Ivancovich and his wife, Marion, 72, will celebrate 50 years of marriage on Wednesday. And on Nov. 20 Baldo will observe three-quarters of a century of age, 75.

The tireless Ivancovich still puts in a full week's work in San Francisco where he is an agent for Occidental Life Insurance Co. He has been employed there for 54 years.

The family home is at 15 Bolinas Avenue, San Anselmo. The couple has lived in Marin since their marriage 50 years ago.

San Anselmo residents may have seen the jolly Ivancovich in any of the stores in the Hub City area. In most cases he may have had pocket-full of pennies, all shined up, but pulling more of them out of children's ears.

"Haven't you washed your ears today?" Ivancovich might say to the little boy or girl as he "pulls" a shined-up penney from the child's ear. The surprised child's reward—the penney, of course.

He uses a "secret formula" including vinegar to shine up all the pennies he hands out to the youngsters.

Baldo reflected back over the half century and related he and his wife were the first couple to be married in St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo.

"I remember when all the trees in front of the church were only a half inch wide," Baldo reflected. (St. Anselm's Church is surrounded by trees, some of which are now up to a foot and a halw wide.)

Ivancovich and his wife were married by the late Father John Egan. The couple have four daughters who have given them 21 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Food Firm Files For Incorporation

Two Marin County men are among the directors of the San Francisco Fine Foods Co., which has filed articles of incorporation with the office of the secretary of state in Sacramento.

They are Glen E. Adams Jr. of 410 Via Hidalgo, Greenbrae, and Benjamin H. Ballard Jr. of 49 Treehaven Road, San Rafael. Capitalization will be $100,000 in $100 par shares.

Two Get Sentenced For Drunk Driving

Two Marin residents and a San Franciscan were sentenced in Marin Municipal Court Friday for drunken driving.

William Richard Gaynor, 46, of 2555 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas to $158 fine and six months probation for drunken driving Tuesday on U.S. 101. He is not to drive except to and from his job or except in an emergency for 90 days.

Judge Thomas fined Ralph Leroy Parrott, 43, of 55 Forest Avenue, San Anselmo, $132 and put him on six months probation following his arrest Wednesday on Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur. He also is not to drive for 90 days except to or from employment.

It was specified Parrott would spend one day in jail for each $10 of the fine not paid, not to exceed twelve days, and he was remanded to the sheriff's custody pending payment.

Judge Harold J. Haley sentenced A. Lee Irving, 57, unemployed, of San Francisco to 10 days in jail following his arrest July 22 on U.S. 101 at Lincoln Way, San Rafael. He was given five days in jail July 26 following conviction of being drunk in or about an auto.

The court was told Irving and a companion took turns driving the car shortly before the arrest and Irving was booked on two charges. The judge gave him a jail term on the drunken driving conviction because of his apparent inability to pay a fine.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
(Advertisement)

1.—NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Trustees of the Marin Junior College District will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation and services for alterations to the electrical system, rehabilitation of the boiler controls and reroofing work at the College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.

2.—Each bid to be in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with FALK & BOOTH, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, California, where same may be examined and copies obtained upon deposit of $25.00 per set, which deposit will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.

3.—Each bid shall be made on a form to be obtained at the office of FALK & BOOTH, 16 Beale Street, San Francisco, California, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten percent of the amount bid, made payable to the School District, and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 24th day of August, 1961, at 4:00 o'clock P.M. and will be opened in public at or about 4:00 o'clock P.M. of that day in the office of the President, Harlan Hall, College of Marin, Kentfield, Marin County, California.

4.—The above-mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Board of Trustees of the Marin Junior College District.

5.—The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Board of Trustees of the Marin Junior College District.

6.—Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Trustees of the Marin Junior College District has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder.

7.—The general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic need to execute the contract, has been ascertained by the Board of Trustees of the Marin Junior College District to be as follows:

Class of Work	Wage Per Hour
Building Laborers	$3.225
Carpenters	3.95
Electrical Workers	4.50
Plumbers	4.57
Sheet Metal Workers	4.325
Roofers	3.95

8.—The working day shall be eight (8) hours unless otherwise specified above. The per diem rate shall be the hourly rate multiplied by the number of hours in the working day.

9.—All other trades not hereinabove mentioned to receive wage prescribed for that particular craft or type of workman.

10.—All labor to receive time and one-half for overtime, double time on holidays, unless otherwise specified.

11.—In addition to the hourly and/or per diem wages for the crafts, classifications or types of workmen listed above, contractors may be required to make employer payments for health and welfare, pension, vacation and similar purposes as required by the executed collective bargaining agreements for the particular craft, classification or type of work involved.

12.—The Board of Trustees of the Marin Junior College District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

THE MILL CREEK

"THE MOST MAGNIFICENT ADDRESS IN MARIN"

My family is raised. We wish to sell our home with its upkeep and loss of interest and move into an apt. But it must be very large and gorgeous. A 1-bedroom (900 sq. ft.) or 2 bedrm., 2 bath (1200 sq. ft.) We want Country-Park-like setting with tall beautiful redwood trees, a live creek meandering through the property. Must be level, and walking distance to the quaint downtown shopping of Mill Valley . . . OH DEAR! We have just wished ourselves into the MILL CREEK. You will too if you see this unbelievable setting. From $145. Adults.

2 Marinites Win Awards From Army

Two Marin employees of the Army at Fort Mason have been awarded $120 in special cash bonuses. They are Mrs. Helen E. Kelly of 102 Scenic Avenue, San Anselmo, and Howard H. Weissenborn of 21 Miraflores Avenue, San Rafael.

Mrs. Kelly is a management clerk with the comptroller of the Pacific Transportation Terminal Command headquarters at Fort Mason. She received $100 and an "outstanding employee rating" from Brig. Gen. Robert C. Tripp, commanding general. Weissenborn, an investigator for the Terminal command inspector general, was awarded $20 for adoption of a management improvement suggestion.

Tam, Homestead Fire Merger Gains

Tamalpais Valley Fire Protection District commissioners announced at their meeting Thursday night they are ready to dissolve their district and merge it with Homestead Valley Fire Protection District if Homestead Valley Fire Protection District if Homestead is willing to do the same.

In a policy statement, the district said consolidation would mean that both districts would offer all their assets, liabilities and property to the combined district.

Consolidation discussions have been going on since March with the idea that the proposed merger would cut costs and give more efficient fire protection.

Vacation Drivers Given Some Hints

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Vacation trips by car are a lot different than driving to and from work every day and require different driving habits, State Highway Patrol Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden warned.

Drivers "make many more stops," Crittenden said, warning that signals should be given both stopping and starting. And he suggested that vacationers pay more attention to road markings and safety signs.

'Clipper Ships And Paddle Wheels' To Be On National Hookup

One of the best of television station KGO's generally excellent series of "Expedition California" documentaries this past season was the one entitled "Clipper Ships and Paddle Wheels."

It traced the development of San Francisco Bay from the first Spanish exploration in 1775 down to the present day. It did that largely by telling the story of the vessels that have moved through Bay waters—the proud clippers, the riverboats, the steam schooners, the paddlewheel ferryboats, the scows, the luxury liners, the sleek pleasure craft, the huge aircraft carriers, the ultra-modern nuclear submarines, etc.

"Clipper Ships and Paddle Wheels" was selected by the parent American Broadcasting Co. television network as one of the nine best among 609 such shows locally produced by its affiliates.

As a result, the show will be given a nation-wide airing tomorrow night as part of ABC's summer-time "Focus on America" series. Bay Area residents who missed it the first time around or who would like to see it again can catch it at 7 o'clock on Channel 7.

The documentary was prepared by KGO in cooperation with the San Francisco Maritime Museum. It represents a successful effort to recapture the color and the vigor of one of the most significant aspects of Bay Area growth.

IT WILL BE the usual blue and barren Monday for television viewers tonight. Only KQED has scheduled anything out of the ordinary.

Its "Kaleidoscope" show at 8 o'clock will be devoted to an interview of the famed photographer. Ansel Adams. And at 9:30 it will repeat a "Prospects of Mankind" program dealing with the Peace Corps.

The latter program features an introductory interview of President John F. Kennedy by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Also seen on the show are Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.); Senteca Kajubi, professor of education at the University of East Africa in Uganda, and Samuel Hayes, University of Michigan economics professor and author of the Peace Corps task force report presented to the President.

TOMORROW night's programming includes:

Pianist Artur Rubinstein in a concert of Chopin compositions on KPIX at 7:30; a panel discussion of "The Negro and His Rights" with the participants including National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People leader Roy Wilkins and ex-baseball star Jackie Robinson on "Open End" on KQED at 8:30 p.m.; a concert with Andre Kostelanetz conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and Sidney Harth as violin soloist on KTVU at 9 o'clock; a "Playhouse 90" repeat of the suspense drama, "The Grey Nurse Said Nothing," with an all-British cast on KPIX at 9:30, and a repeat of the "Purex Special" documentary entitled "The Cold Woman" on KRON at 10 o'clock.

THOSE MUSIC and variety galas once called spectaculars are just about non-existent during the summer months, but there will be one Wednesday evening.

Jimmy Durante will celebrate his 50th year in show business by hosting a one-hour special to be seen at 10 o'clock on KRON. Bob Hope, Garry Moore and Janice Rule will be his guests.

Also on Wednesday:

As KTVU's "Play of the Week" at 8 p.m., Paul Vincent Carroll's warmhearted Irish comedy, "The White Steed," with Frank Conroy, Ruth McDevitt and Tim O'Connor.

Tam High District Budget Hearing Set For Tonight

The public hearing on the $4,720,493 budget for 1961-62 of Tamalpais Union High School District will be held at the board meeting at 8 p.m. today in the district offices in Larkspur.

The board will award a contract for a typesetting machine for the printing shop at Tamalpais High School. It will also award contracts for drawing tables for Sir Francis Drake High School and musical instruments for the entire district.

The board will be asked for approval of preliminary drawings of a six-room science building at Tamalpais High School and a locker room and covered eating area at Drake High School.

Reports will be given on the summer school and on adult school.

Marin City Reviewed

Mrs. Marie C. McGuire, commissioner of the Public Housing Administration in Washington, D.C., yesterday afternoon reviewed the completed construction at Marin City in an informal visit.

Governor Mansion To Be Monument

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The pretty piece of architectural gingerbread that has housed California's governors for the past 58 years is on its way to becoming an historical monument.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced yesterday that he had taken the first step toward preserving the three-story mansion that is generously decorated with curlicues and is topped by a mansard roof.

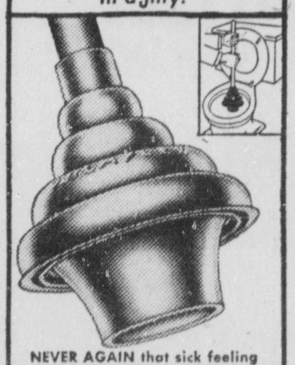

Brown, whose wife has complained of mice in the mansion, said that he had asked the director of natural resources to study work necessary for preserving the 84-year-old structure and to contact historical groups that might want to help with the project.

Brown acted shortly after the public works board approved a site for a new mansion in Sacramento. Board members hoped to have the new place ready for whomever wins the 1962 election.

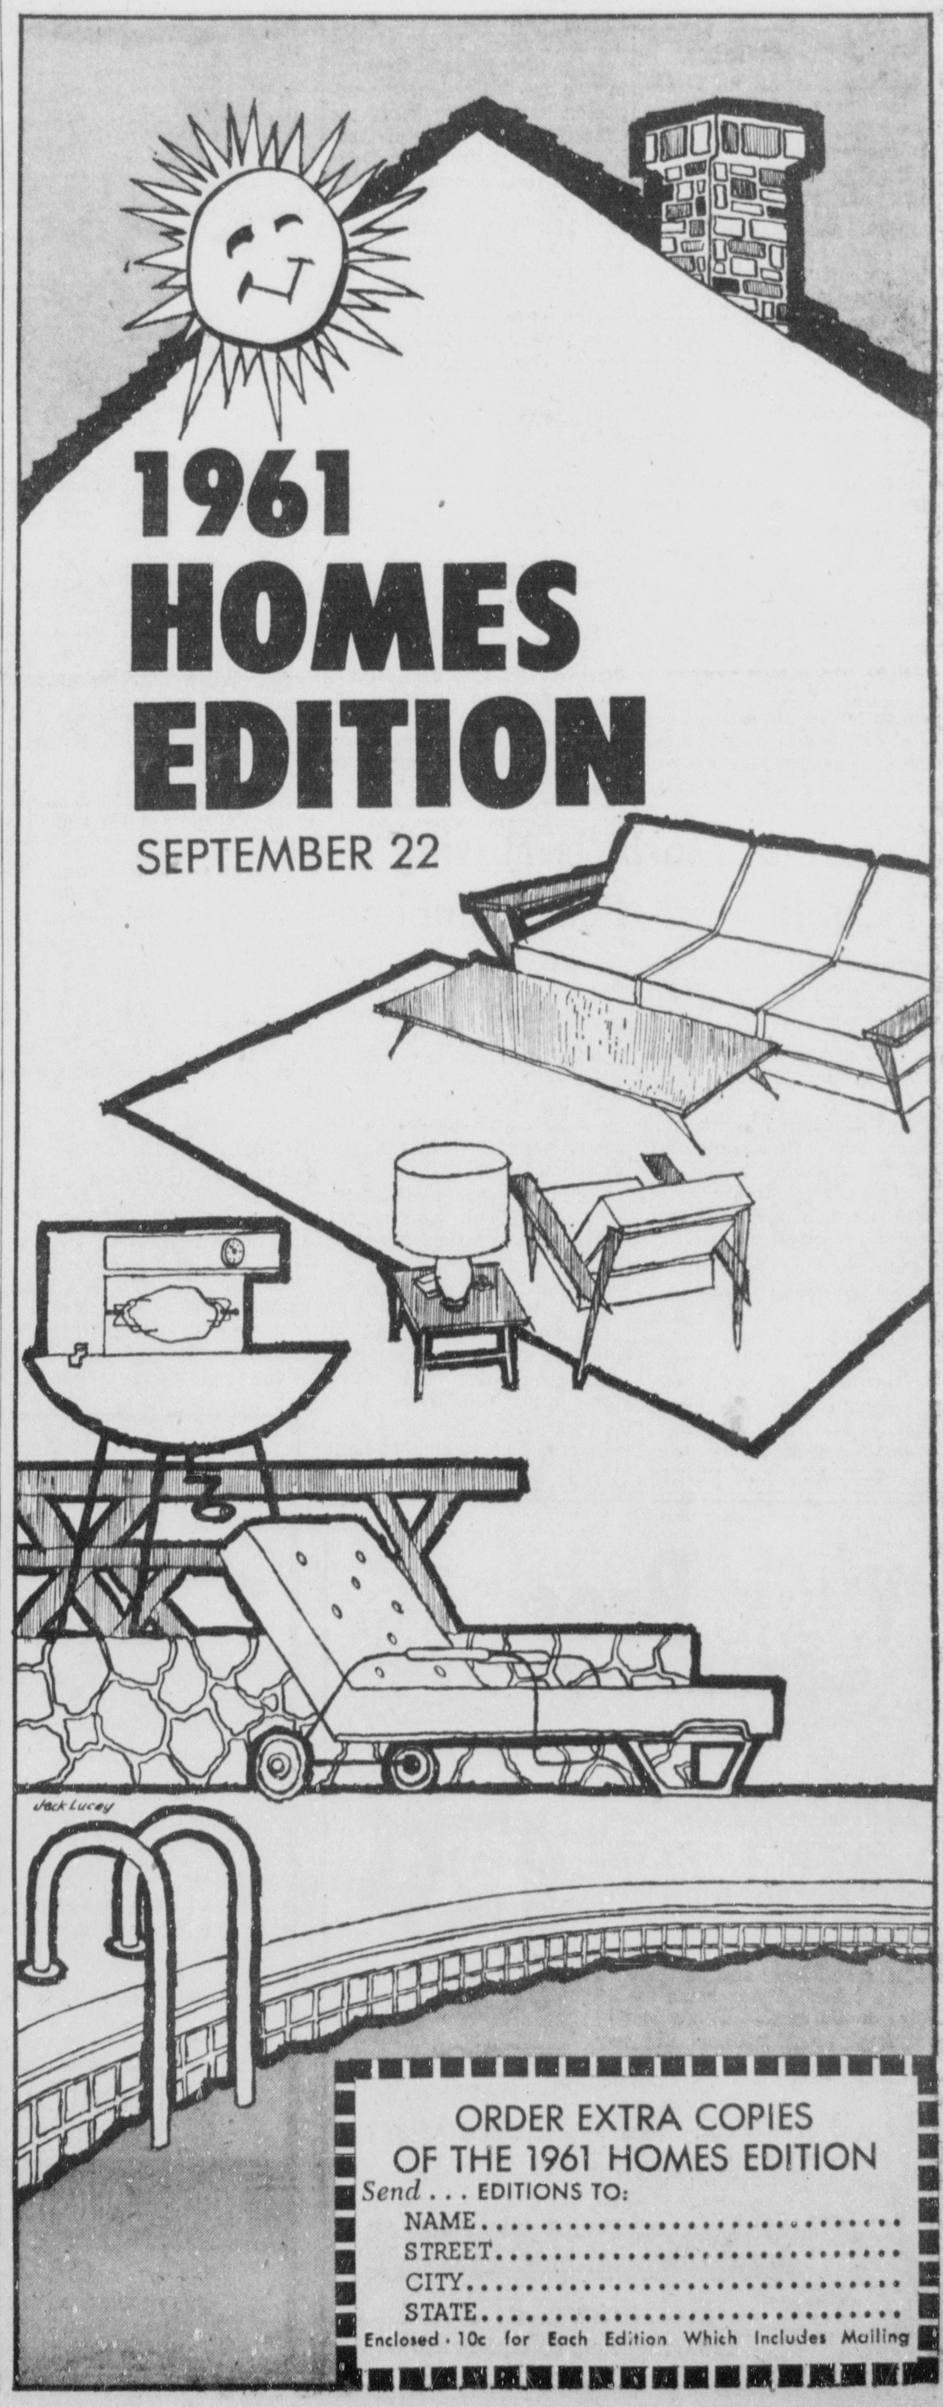

Forest fires in California cost taxpayers and private industry more than 15 million dollars each year in pre-suppression and control expenditures.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

By HARRY CRAFT

There's Gold In These Marin Hills –Just Look At The Real Estate

"Thar's gold in them thar hills!" In the valleys, too —and you don't have to dig for it.

More than two million dollars worth of Belvedere-Tiburon real estate — listings of the Tiburon office of Alex Young, Realtor—were shown on the weekly property tour of the Marin County Real Estate Board last Tuesday by co-owners of the firm Edward P. Ward and William H. Rafter who arranged the inspection trip.

Among high-valued spots of interest were a fanciful Belvedere castle at $112,500, an award-winning Belvedere Lagoon multiple dwelling at $185,000, another prize winner at $97,500 and a variety of contemporary homes ranging upward from $40,000 each.

The inspection tour also included a unique apartment combination featured in House and Home Magazine at $170,750 and a spectacular hill top apartment site at $456,000.

Big money—yes, but there's a lot more in the county where they came from and you can bet your chipping hammer, podner, someone is going to come along and buy it.

LESS SPECTACULAR in real estate color, perhaps, but undoubtedly significant of something in trends is a statement by San Rafael realtor Bob Lindskog who says he has noticed a definite flurry in the $18,000 to $22,000 range. He doesn't know if it is the rearmament program or economic conditions in general, but both his San Rafael and Mill Valley offices are showing more activity lately.

AND WHILE we're on the subject of real estate — Marin's big business—Dan Deedy of the Marin County Real Estate Board points out that new legislation going into effect September 16 requires all real estate offices to keep original listings, deposit receipts, cancelled checks and other records of their operations for a period of two years.

WE HEAR from Mrs. Hazel Field Pauline of Ross Realty Co. that she and her associate Mrs. Claire N. Cook, along with the Wyman McClures and the Robert Yohes (she is with Fardin Realty) will represent the Marin County Real Estate profession by joining San Francisco Multiple Listing Service members in their European tour leaving August 31.

The group will fly to New York, England and Holland and travel through five other countries on the continent by bus and train, returning home September 26.

IF THE SHOE FITS it must be you:

The average Marin household has 3.5 members compared to the state average of 3.1. Heads of most families are young, with two out of three under 50 years of age and they average high incomes. Two out of five are professionals, semi-professionals, proprietors or executives. Not a few of them have incomes from dividends and interest. Personal income from dividends in Marin (more than 14 million dollars) tops all other counties in the state in the population bracket between 100,000 and 200,000. Sonoma County personal incomes from interest outranks ours, though population figures are very close.

SPEAKING OF DIVIDENDS, further word from Jess France of York and Co. is that since the Berlin crisis all eyes seem to be focused on the American market which has been rising while some very healthy European stocks have dropped.

But a great deal of American smart money is still being placed on European holdings notwithstanding, notably those of the common market countries. It's a big switch from 100 years ago when European capital was being invested in American stocks.

ALL ALONE—The Canadian was all alone when he tried to get out, with only a helpful rinse-off from a hose-wielding member of 83rd squadron.

FLY JETS, TOO

Two Canadians Make Splash At Air Base

Two officers in Canadian Air Force uniforms at Hamilton Air Force Base have caused "quite a lot of stares."

Flight Lt. Thomas Murray, a pilot, an Flight Lt. David Mitton, radar observer in the Royal Canadian Air Force are the forerunners of 16 more RCAF men to be trained in the F-101 jet fighters at the base.

(Flight Leftenant, as the Canadians pronounce it, is about equal to a U.S. Captain.)

The training will open the way for the 18 men to return to Canadian squadrons and train men to use the fighters. Five squadrons of F-101s, totaling 66 planes, are scheduled to be used by Canada in the integrated Canadian-United States North American Air Defense program.

The training is not much different from that in Canada, except for the "informality" here, Mitton says. "We're strictly in the same business," adds Murray, with the burr he brought with him from Scotland when he emigrated to Canada in 1956.

Murray's home is about 40 miles north of Inverness in Scotland, though he said he hadn't heard of the city's namesake in Marin.

"I haven't seen much of Marin County — I've looked over the side," he said.

They've been making "two trips" a day in "the birds" with members of the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at the base.

"I've never met a finer bunch of troops than the 83rd," Murray says, seconded by Mitton who speaks of American friendliness.

The boys of the 83rd were especially friendly when Murray and Mitton soloed last week. They dumped both of them, fully clothed, into a life raft filled with water. They told the Canadians it was an old American custom.

Thumb Is Too Green

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Don Becker wonders if he should continue using willow branches to stake up his tomato plants. He pushed the branches in the ground for the plants to climb. Then the branches sprouted and now it looks like he is in for a new crop of willow trees.

SPLAT—Murray hits the water with the aid of, from left, first lieutenants James Milner, background, Donovon Lyon, Howard W. Kidwell and Capt. Harold Compton.

Suburban Marin Is Having Trouble With Poison Snakes

Snakes, long considered pests only to rural dwellers and persons suffering from DTs, are becoming a very real problem to residents of tracts in undeveloped lands.

Noting the great mirgation of urban population to the wildlands, the Marin County Agriculture Extension Service has issued instructions for dealing with the dangerous species of reptiles, the rattlesnake.

According to Maynard W. Cummings, verterbate pest control specialist with the University of California at Davis, removal of food and cover is one of the most effective ways of dealing with poisonious snakes. This means killing of rodents, on which snakes feed, and clearing weeds, brush and tall grass, ideal hiding places for reptiles.

Snakeproofing of buildings by eliminating of holes and cracks in floors and foundations is advisiable, Cummins said. Snakeproof fences, made of ¼-inch wire mesh with the lower edge buried, are also effective, he said.

Poisoning snakes is dangerous and difficult, he said, primarily because they prefer to kill their own food.

DDT and other chlordindated hydrocarbon insectides are poisonious to reptiles and application of 50 per cent DDT dusting powder will afford some protection.

Turkeys, Cummings says, are excellent locators, adding that an agressive dog will often set up an alarm if a snake is present.

The expert admits, however, that a club or a gun remains "the best direct method of controlling rattlesnakes."

Cummings's complete article on reptiles is available from the agriculture extension service at 733 A Street, San Rafael.
